SHIP STRIKE UP TO STEELMAN

Predict Defeat Of Garbage Bill

Observers See Little Chance Plan to Put Proposal on November Ballot Will Get Council OK Tonight.

The proposal to seek a vote in November on collection of Mansfield garbage fees with property taxes appeared headed for defeat today, observers believe.

City council meets in special session tonight to decide whether to ask for a vote on the plan. A 6-to-3 majority is needed to pass the resolution. Four of the nine councilmen have already voiced opposition.

A fifth councilman may be lined up against the tax levy plan tonight, it was pointed out, Russell Porch of the First ward said yesterday he didn't like the levy idea but might be induced to change his mind.

The plan, offered to council in caucus Tuesday night, would set up a one and one-half mill tax levy to take care of garbage service and eliminate other garbage service charges. It is estimated the levy would produce $90,000 a year.

Emergency Bill.

The 6-3 majority is needed, City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner explained, because the proposal is an emergency bill and pertains to taxation.

If councilmen continue to hold the same opinions they expressed in caucus session Tuesday, observers feel that the bill will fail by at least one vote regardless of how Porch votes. He was absent from the Tuesday session.

At that time councilmen split four-to-four on a proposal to draft the resolution and the decision to vote on it tonight came only when Council President William E. Bradford's ballot broke the tie.

In favor of considering it tonight were Democrats Charles O. Anglin and Nelson Swihart and Republicans James R. Anderson and Harry J. Hollingsworth. Against it were Republicans Clifford Knarr and Charles N. Shultz and Democrats Fred Miller and Michael Mihalick.

The resolution would be a request to the election board to put the garbage levy question to a vote Nov. 5.

Recommends Boost.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn has recommended an increase in the city's $7.20-a-year garbage collection fee in order to put the garbage department on a self-supporting basis. Sanitation Supt.

SITE FOR NEWMAN SCHOOL: This photo, taken from the water tower of the North American Knitting Mills by News-Journal Photographer Burl Bachmann, shows all but a small portion of the site chosen by the Mansfield board of education for the new Newman elementary school. John H. Eisaman, clerk-treasurer of the board, said the school grounds will take in most of Central avenue extension between Grace and Spring streets and will be bounded on the west by Oakenwaldt avenue. Two lots already have been purchased and several others will be purchased, Eisaman said. Some Newman school parents voiced objection to the site at a P-TA meeting Tuesday night. They said they preferred a site at First avenue and Patton avenue.

President Asks Decision Today

Reconversion Director Faces Choice of Slapping Stabilization Board or Fighting Union Forces.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has instructed Reconversion Director John R. Steelman to take charge of the crippling maritime strike situation and try to work out a settlement today.

This announcement was made by Charles G. Ross, presidential press officer, who told reporters that members of the Wage Stabilization Board, which last night refused to approve an AFL seamen's wage increase, were now giving a full report to Steelman.

"It is up to Dr. Steelman to make a decision, probably in the course of the day," Ross said.

As the spreading waterfront walk-out threatened to shatter the entire Truman wage-price stabilization program, Ross told newsmen that Steelman has two courses open.

Two Alternatives.

One obviously is to approve the finding of the wage stabilization board and fight it out, with all that that implies," Ross said.

"The other is to agree with the maritime commission and the unions and the industry—as against the WSB.

Leaders of striking AFL seamen today denounced as a "threat to the entire labor movement of the United States" the decision of the wage stabilization board in standing pat on its earlier ruling denying them wage hikes above those won by CIO seamen.

Pledging a "fight to the bitter end," they promised to carry out "plans to secure the support of the entire U. S. labor movement—including AFL, CIO and Independent unions—to aid us in our fight to regain the right of free collective bargaining which the WSB action has denied us."

More Join Strike.

The WSB decision brought immediate repercussions along the strike torn coastal ports of the nation where the world's greatest maritime fleet lay virtually immobilized behind a chain of picketing seamen.

The marine firemen, oilers, wipers and watertenders union, an independent organization, announced its 15,000 members throughout the nation would join the AFL strike today.

Harry Lundeberg, secretary-treasurer of the Sailors Union of the Pacific and president of the Seafarers International union—the striking unions—said in San Francisco that all Pacific coast shipyards as well as ports would be "closed tight" today.

CITY EATS EGGS, FISH AS SUPPLY OF MEAT FADES

Restaurants Feel Pinch of Shortage; Cafeterias in Schools Still Operate.

Mansfield restaurants were stretching meat supplies today with eggs, fish and chicken, hoping that next week's meat picture will brighten.

Downtown eating places reported that "so far" they've "been making out," but feared that stepped-up consumption of fish and chicken would cause shortages in these meat substitutes.

The local picture was much brighter than that reported from Akron today as many restaurants there were considering closing because of 90 per cent below normal meat deliveries.

Mansfield school children were still getting meat today with their lunches at the Senior high, John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed cafeterias. Reports from all three were that they "haven't suffered yet" and that the city meat markets have been "most cooperative."

Mrs. G. W. Hypes, head school dietician, said the cafeteria menus are made up according to the meat supplies. She added, however, that she "couldn't say" what was ahead for next week.

Meanwhile, all meat markets in the city with any meat to sell, were besieged with customers.

Spokesmen for the livestock industry in the middle west predicted today that the acute meat shortage will continue for the rest of 1946, news dispatches stated.

Feedlots where most of the nation's choice beef cattle are fattened for market were reported nearly empty.

Mark Pickell, executive secretary of the corn belt stock producers association, said that farmers have liquidated almost all their animals since Aug. 1 to beat re-establishment of OPA price ceilings.

PLANS GET OK

State Health Board Approves Reservoir Specifications.

The state board of health has formally approved plans for the Clear Fork reservoir dam, and the Muskingum Conservancy board is expected to give its formal approval tomorrow, Service-Safety Director William W. Enlow, said today.

The service-safety director said the city is still awaiting formal approval of the plans by the army engineers at Huntington, W. Va. Tomorrow, he said, the conservancy board is to meet at New Philadelphia and is expected to formally consider the plans then.

The city will receive bids Sept. 30 for the dam construction project. Work is to start 15 days after the contract is signed and must be completed 270 days after it is signed.

Gravediggers End Nine-Day Strike

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Burials resumed today in Spring Grove cemetery as 75 union grave diggers, idle since Sept. 3 in a contract dispute, returned to their jobs.

Settlement of the nine-day strike, during which 26 bodies awaiting burial were stored in receiving vaults, was announced last night by Tallmadge Zipperer, president of Local 1334 United Cemetery Workers-CIO.

STATE TO LEASE PLANT

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The lease of 1,272 acres of the Scioto ordnance works at Marion for use as a medium security state reformatory for juveniles was to be arranged today.

Chicago Gets Nothing But Cattle's Moo

CHICAGO —(AP)— Chicago, the nation's largest meat packing center, has become a whistle stop for cattle on their way from ranges and farms to the east—Boston, New York, Philadelphia.

The situation is a repetition of conditions which existed under previous OPA price ceilings and which led to charges of rampant meat "black market" in the east.

Lest easterners become excited over prospects of more meat, the agriculture department noted that slaughter cattle arrivals are at record low levels—the east is getting most of them, but it isn't getting much.

L. M. Wyatt, head of the production and marketing administration livestock branch, said record low runs and eastern shipments were shutting down many small packing plants and curtailing employment in larger plants throughout the midwest.

Large local packers said prices of cattle here were from $1. to $5. above levels at which they could buy and still remain within OPA "compliance figures."

MORE LIQUOR

State Cuts Ration Period to Three Weeks.

COLUMBUS—(UP)—An increase in the state's liquor supply was indicated today when the state liquor department announced that the ration period will be reduced from four weeks to three weeks, effective Sept. 16.

It was also announced that domestic type Scotch whisky will be placed on the unrationed list.

ENGINEERS STRIKE

LONDON —(INS)— Sixteen hundred airplane engineers employed by three airway corporations staged a walkout today in a move that may tie up all trans-Atlantic, African and Far Eastern air traffic by the weekend. They demanded recognition for their union, the Aeronautical Engineers association.

Community Fund Seeks $94,000

BOOSTS QUOTA NEARLY $5,000

Leaders Line Up For Annual Campaign For 11 Red Feather Agencies.

Leaders already lined up for the big fall campaign of the Mansfield Community Fund learned today that their total goal is $94,067 for use in 1947.

This figure is a net increase for the Community Fund of $4,480, according to Campaign Chairman W. E. Slabaugh. Last year's budget for the 11 Red Feather agencies, all central services and shrinkage totaled $89,587.

Last year the combined Community Fund-War Chest quota was $143,000. But only $119,000 was raised and the Community fund was forced to throw in reserve funds from previous years to operate on a full budget.

Charles E. Nail, chairman of the budget committee, praised the carefully worked out and conservative budgets presented by the various agencies.

"In view of today's fluctuating and rising prices it was difficult to guess what next year's expenditures would be," Nail said. He also pointed to the fact that as Mansfield's population expands its social problems increase.

Several agencies indicated that changes in personnel and increased programs next year might necessitate their returning to the Community Fund for Supplemental aid. Because of this a contingency fund was included in the budget this year—the first since 1942.

While the majority of agencies received increases ranging from 3 to 18 percent, several decreased their requests because of balances left from last year. Among those that asked for less this year were the Visiting Nurses, St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Girl Scouts, the Dental Clinic and the Young Women's Christian Association.

SALE HIGHER

2,187 Drivers Buy Licenses in First Three Days.

The sale of drivers licenses this year soared today far above the number sold during a comparable period last year, Jack R. Berger, secretary-manager of the Richland county Automobile Club, reported.

Sales of 2,187 licenses during the first three days exceeded those of the corresponding period last year by 582. Yesterday 787 licenses were sold compared to 732 Monday and 668 Tuesday.

Berger attributed much of the increase to the fact that a large number of men have returned from military service.

ORDER BACKFIRES

AURORA, Ill. —(UP)— Aurora's Mayor Andrew J. Carter ordered city police to issue tickets against all motorists driving automobiles without a vehicle tax sticker. The first car tagged was his.

DEFENDS SLAYER

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — The shotgun slaying of William Clark, alias Dunn, 45 by John Castronova, 41, was termed justifiable homicide by Mahoning County Coroner David A. Belinky yesterday. In his verdict the coroner said testimony showed Castronova believed his six-year-old niece "had been attacked by Clark" and that "the attacker was trying to escape."

Lumber Black Market Makes Others 'Pikers'

Several Mansfield lumber dealers charged today that "most of the lumber" going into homes and building construction in the city is coming through black market channels.

One lumberman said that, compared to the lumber black market, those in other fields, such as meat, were "just pikers."

An estimate that 70 per cent of the lumber going into construction work in the Mansfield area was coming through black market channels, was made by one dealer.

Others said they didn't have any lumber and one said he hadn't been able to obtain a shipment in four months.

One said he knew of a contractor who was approached by a black market trucker who asked $140 a thousand board feet.

Another lumberman said a trucker recently called at his place and said he had paid $90 a thousand for a load. The lumberman told him that all he could pay was $55 a thousand.

Most of the lumber agencies are of the opinion that the black market lumber is coming from Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia.

NATIONS AGREE

37 U. N. Members Willing to Delay Assembly.

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. —(UP)— Thirty-seven nations, more than the required number, agreed today to postpone United Nations General Assembly for one month to Oct. 23.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie, who reluctantly proposed the delay at the request of Russia, China, France and Belgium, announced that up to noon today no United Nations member had opposed a postponement.

Fourteen of the 51 United Nations still were to be heard from, but a simple majority—26—were sufficient to approve the postponement which was sought chiefly by Russia.

Pupils Sit Idly In Abandoned School

LOGAN —(INS)— Thirty pupils continued their "sit down" strike today in protest against the closing of their one-room Monday Longstreth school.

Parents reported the students have gone there daily since the school term opened September 3 and sat until dismissal time without a teacher. The parents have refused to permit their children to be transferred to the Carbon Hill school. The ward rural board of education closed the one-room schoolhouse as an economy measure.

MEN MASS ON GREEK BORDER

Russians Supplying Troops, Supplies to Albania.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The New York Times reported from Rome today that Albania had "been steadily concentrating large forces, including two Russian infantry regiments, on the Green border for the past weeks."

The Times correspondent, quoting "very good authority," reported:

"Albanian troops were being aided by Russian military advisers and strengthened with Russian materiel, including fighter planes, a small number of medium tanks, mortars, machine guns and ammunition."

Reporting Russian field batteries were arriving in Tirana from Belgrade for service on the strategic island of Saseno, in the bay of Valona, the dispatch said:

"The Albanian government is believed to have ceded Saseno secretly to Russia."

The island is near the mouth of the Adriatic sea—an extension of the Mediterranean.

The dispatch said many skirmishes had occurred between Green and Albanian frontier forces and that 200 wounded Albanian soldiers were being treated in a hospital last month.

"The Tirana government, in collaboration with the Yugoslav general staff, is discussing a plan to eliminate the common frontier between the two countries and create a 'protective area' that would embrace the whole territory of the two countries and make them one solid fortified bloc against attack by other powers," the story related.

Defenses were said to be undergoing strengthening along the whole coast.

Push-Pedal Pest Pilfers Purses

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Police were looking for a new kind of purse-snatcher today, one described as a fast-pedaling bicycle rider.

Within the past week, four women have reported a man snatched their purses as he wheeled by on a bike. His latest victim yesterday reported her bag contained $82.

OPINION ASKED ON VET HOUSING

Request For State Aid Awaits Prosecutor's Decision.

C. L. Shoup, chairman of the board of county commissioners, said today he would ask County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz if the county's share of the state's $6,000,000 emergency veterans' housing fund may be administered by the Mansfield Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Action by the commissioners to obtain the county's $64,149 share of the state fund awaits clarification of this point and also whether or not the county must contribute of its own money to qualify for the state funds.

"We're told Shelby isn't interested in the program and I know of no smaller communities which need it. Mansfield seems to be the only city in the county needing help but we're not sure if these funds can be shared with Mansfield," Shoup said.

International News Service reported today that $3,247,195 of the $6,000,000 fund has already been requested by 30 counties. Latest applications received by State Treasurer Don H. Ebright include Wayne county, $43,882; Lorain, $97,622; Tuscarawas, $59,774; and Williams, $22,158.

Counties which already have received their money are Auglaize, Cuyahoga, Defiance, Franklin, Hamilton, Hancock and Montgomery.

Meanwhile, the project engineer on the Vetsville project near Mifflin has estimated that the first four apartments should be ready for occupancy Sept. 23, James L. Zimmerman, chairman of the sponsoring American Legion committee, reported today.

"The initial occupancy date has been set and re-set several times since the first one of June 12. The delays are dictated by failure to receive needed items, such as sinks, kitchen cabinets, and linoleum. We hope this is the last postponement," Zimmerman said.

HINT OF FALL

Mercury Due to Drop Almost to 40 By Tomorrow.

Already chilly temperatures are to drop to around 40 degrees by tomorrow morning, the weatherman predicted today.

Mansfielders got out their extra blankets last night as the mercury dropped from sultry levels of the past week to a minimum of 55 degrees this morning. The downward trend continued until noon when the thermometer registered 54.

Today is to remain cloudy, but skies will clear tonight, and fair weather is due tomorrow. Light showers fell this morning in Mansfield.

TRUCKS BEGIN TO ROLL AGAIN IN NEW YORK

Break Comes When Top Union Orders Locals to Abide By Contracts.

NEW YORK —(INS)— The first break in the New York truck strike came today when drivers of locals with bona fide union contracts began to move their vehicles.

Trucks loaded with beer, lumber and other non-perishables were observed rolling through the Holland tunnel in both directions without molestation from pickets.

Many trucks entering New York City bore large printed signs reading "Signed Up," and identifying the local. These locals included 27 and 631, both New Jersey, and 816, of Manhattan.

Picket Line Ends.

No pickets were posted at either end of the tunnel, or on the Boston Post road, at the city line, where they had been turning back trucks during the last few days.

Capt. Frank Sentner in charge of police at the New York end of the tunnel, said the flow of trucks early today was up 10 to 15 per cent above yesterday's volume.

The increased flow of trucks was due to orders sent out by the international headquarters of the union, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, directing members of unions that have union contracts to live up to their contracts.

Manning of the trucks gave rise to new hope that members of Local 807, the principal striking local, might vote for resuming negotiations for a settlement at their meeting this afternoon.

The New Jersey truck-drivers decided to end their walk-out after Daniel J. Tobin, president of their international union, instructed all drivers in New York and New Jersey to honor contracts now in force.

Tobin intervened at the request of Mayor William O'Dwyer. However, he refused to take responsibility for ending the strike by Local 807, whose contract expired Sept. 1.

SEEK PEACE

Chinese Urge Committee of Three Revival.

NANKING—(INS)—Chinese Communist leaders today suggested the resurrection of old peace machinery as a means of solving their long deadlocked negotiations with the Nationalists.

A Yenan spokesman, Liao Cheng Chi, said his party has asked reconvocation of the committee of three which has not met since last June to attempt to work out a nationwide cease-fire order.

The committee members include U. S. Gen. George C. Marshall, Nationalist Gen. Hsu Yung Chang and Communist Gen. Chou En-Lai It was this committee that signed the original civil war truce last Jan. 13.

Boys Unscathed as Car Soars 12 Feet

FREMONT — (UP) — Two Lorain youths, John W. German and Frank Kanig, today numbered themselves among the world's luckiest people after their escape from an accident in which their automobile was nearly demolished.

Deputy sheriffs reported the car skidded on U. S. Route No. 6 near here, left the road, went into a ditch, then bounced into the air high enough to snap a utility wire 12 feet above the ground. German suffered the only injury to the two boys—a cut wrist.

SUES CENSORS

NEW YORK —(INS)— Howard Hughes, millionaire sportsman and motion picture producer, is in New York today to push his five million dollar suit against the movie censors who have banned the showing of his latest movie "The Outlaw."

PLANTS HUM AGAIN

DETROIT —(AP)— Back-to-work movements today cut Detroit's total of strike-idle automotive workers from 22,200 to only about 6,000.

ALLOW VISITS

Authorities Permit Wives to See Nazi Officials.

NUERNBERG —(INS)— Allied authorities disclosed today they will permit wives of the former Nazi officials imprisoned at Nuernberg to see their husbands for 30 minutes daily.

The wives of Hermann Goering and former Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop already have arrived in Nuernberg.

Most of the others are expected, except for the wives of Rudolf Hess and Franz Von Papen. Hess and Von Paper said they did not wish to see their wives in prison.

Knocks Out Guard, But Can't Escape

CANTON —(AP)— John Moldovan, 60, guard at the Stark county jail was in serious condition today after being slugged by a 17-year-old youth in a jail break attempt.

Sheriff Richard France said Troy Barnes, held as a witness in a burglary case, hit the guard with a mop handle yesterday. He failed to get away, however, because he was unable to scale the yard walls.

5 DAYS, 4 MURDERS

BALTIMORE — (UP) — Police were searching today for a knife-wielding slayer who cut the throat of 45-year-old Constance Catanzaro and left her body in a fruit company refrigerator. It was Baltimore's fourth murder in five days.

It's Great to Live In Midwest - - Girls Have Oomph In Right Places

CHICAGO —(UP)— Frances H. Cardell said today that there's less glamour in New England than any place else in the U. S.

She said midwestern girls practice what she likes to call "hipnotism."

Miss Cardell, Bridgeport, Conn., is educational director of a large lingerie manufacturing concern. She tours the country trying to get women into curvaceous undergarments.

"The girls in the Plains states really have oomph, and in the right places," she said. "But the southern belles are developing, too. My, what pretty legs they have."

As for New England: "It's simply filled with women who either don't have glamour or don't want it," she explained. "They aren't fashion conscious and de-oomphasize everything.

"New England women are flat chested and wear clothes that cover them and that's about all."

Farther west, the women, largely of European stock, not only have more of the same, but they accentuate it properly, she said. They have fuller hips, too.

Miss Cardell said she wasn't particularly interested in Hollywood glamour.

"That's not in the United States anyway," she said.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

FIRM TEACHES BY VISUAL AID

Methods Used By Army Adopted in Sohio 'School.'

Mansfield division employes of the Standard Oil company of Ohio are attending "school."

Under a postwar service and courtesy training program, all of the local employes either are at present being trained, or ultimately will be trained, to do their jobs more efficiently.

The training classes are being held at the Sohio servicenter, Park avenue west and Benton street. Elwood Kaler, in charge of the training, said today that eight men already are enrolled for a two-weeks course. Larger classes are expected to follow.

Borrowing methods employed by the military forces during the war, the daily classroom sessions feature visual aids, such as slide films, motion pictures, charts and drawings. "Mockups" of automobile engines, wheel assemblies and windshields enable the student to practice service methods.

"These men are being taught new methods of servicing automobiles which will give better service, yet save time for both motorist and employe," C. J. Baer, Sohio's Mansfield division manager said.

QUOTA RAISED FOR RECRUITING

Mansfield Station Asked to Enlist 50 a Month.

The Mansfield army recruiting station's quota of recruits was raised today from 36 to 50 a month. Recruiting quotas throughout the state were increased from 2,330 to 2,980 in order to help the Second Army district meet its share of the war department's goal of 1,000,000 volunteers by Sept. 30.

Lt. Thomas Blackburn, commanding officer of the Mansfield army recruiting station, said the Second Army, of which Ohio is a part, was allotted one-fifth of that number. Some 12,800 recruits are needed before the Second Army can make its quota.

Three more area men were reported enlisted today through the Mansfield station. They are Robert E. Broyles, 287 Lexington avenue; Jay J. Matchant, 111 Stewart avenue and Richard L. Wiggins, Fredericktown.

Cutting Victim's Condition Fair

Jesse Hall, 40, of 49 King street, remained in fair condition in General hospital today, five days after he was found severely stabbed.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson last night released the second of two Mansfield men who had been detained in connection with the cutting.

Hall was found about 1:30 a. m Sept. 7 in a ditch along the Olivesburg road. He had been cut several times in each arm and leg, in the abdomen and in the chest. The chest wound exposed a lung, officers said.

A Lesson in Tea-Making

Scald a crockery teapot. Put in one teaspoonful of tea or one tea-bag for each person. Add fresh, "bubbling" boiling water. Steep for five minutes. Stir, then serve.

REJECT TERMS

Chinese Communists Demand Unconditional 'Cease Fire.'

NANKING —(AP)— The Communists yesterday rejected Chiang Kai-Shek's latest truce proposal as unsatisfactory, dooming any immediate hopes of a political settlement of China's mounting civil strife.

General Marshall, U. S. special envoy, communicated the generalissimo's undisclosed terms for a nation-wide armistice in a two and a half hour conference with Gen. Chou En-Lai, No. 2 Chinese Communist. Then Communist spokesman Wang Ping-Nan reported:

"We continue to demand unconditional cease fire. We will not accept any other conditions. The situation remains serious."

In Tibet goiters are so general that women who do not have them are referred to contemptuously as "little necks."

Dickey Doesn't Want Yankee Managership Next Season

DETROIT—(AP)—Bill Dickey, one of the greatest Yankees of them all, joined the legion today of star players who have failed as managers.

The greatest catcher in the game for more than a decade said that he had told the New York Yankees' general manager, Larry MacPhail, that he had taken enough as pilot of the club and that for the job in 1947."

The Yankees, top pre-season choice of the experts to win the American league pennant, were unable from the start to match the fast pace of the Boston Red Sox and McCarthy resigned after a 16-season career following a disastrous western road trip.

However, earlier this week he appointed a major league veteran in the managing field, Stanley (Bucky) Harris as an executive assistant, giving rise to reports that the former boss of the Washington Senators, Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers, and Philadelphia Phillies might return as field leader of the Yankees.

Chief difficulty of the club was the failure of its great pre-war stars, Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon, Tommy Henrich, Charley Keller, Phil Rizzuto, and a few others to regain the eminence they enjoyed before going into military service.

There have been numerous candidates mentioned for the Yankee job in the event that Dickey failed to return next year. Leo Durocher, manager of the senational Brooklyn Dodgers, also was rated high on MacPhail's list, particularly since he and Durocher formed the winning combination which brought Brooklyn its first pennant in 21 years in 1941.

Also prominently mentioned were Jimmy Dykes, former Chicago White Sox manager, who also left the team during the 1946 season; Lefty O'Doul, now manager of the pennant-bound San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league, and Billy Herman, veteran infielder of the Boston Braves.

Barney Ross Faces Toughest Fight, to Take Cure for Dope

NEW YORK—(INS)—Barney Ross signed up for his toughest fight today.

Ross, who fought his way to the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing championships and then proved himself a marine hero in the tougher fighting on Guadalcanal, will enter the U. S. Public Health hospital at Lexington, Ky., to take the cure for drug addiction.

Barney appeared at the office of United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey and submitted to "technical" arrest as that is the only way he could be admitted to the hospital at this time.

"It took a lot of courage to come up here Barney," McGohey said, but Ross interrupted him and said:

"Not courage, Mr. McGohey. Look at it this way; a lot of kids think I am quite a guy because I was a fighter. Well, I can't let 'em see me wind up as a dope fiend. I got to beat it."

Ross who won the Silver Star for heroism in the Guadalcanal fighting, during which he suffered several wounds, then told the story of his addiction. He explained:

"I started taking dope when I was in the hospital on Guadalcanal. I had been sent there for shock and malaria and it was pretty tough.

"A couple of buddies of mine, guys in my outfit, began giving me drugs. They meant only good and the dope helped me.

"The malaria kept coming back. Each time the drugs seemed to help. Finally I was discharged and I thought my troubles were over. But about a year later the awful headaches came back again. Then the chills and the fever returned and I was up against the same old thing.

"I went back to the dope but, not being a doctor, I got in over my head this time. Now, I've got to beat it the hard way."

SQUATTERS DEFY BRITISH POLICE

Cabinet Meeting to Consider House-Seizure Problem.

LONDON—(AP)—Squatter squadrons defying government orders entrenched themselves in a shabby one-time "temperance hotel" today, staged a lie-down demonstration and threatened to seize many more buildings in a battle of wits with police.

The British cabinet was scheduled to meet today to discuss the squatter problem and Communist leader Harry Pollitt prepared to answer the government's "anarchy" charge in a public address tonight in Leicester square.

By employing what was described as a "feint squat," the squatters drew police half way across London and then moved into the Ivanhoe hotel, in the central section of the city. Twelve families broke open the boarded-up doors and seized rooms before police could intervene.

Those who entered were not put out, but police re-boarded the entrance and broke up a rush of more would-be squatters who tried to storm their way in.

One angry squatter who was forced back from the barricaded entrance shouted "you won't have enough police in this area to guard all the buildings we are going to seize by the weekend!"

All was quiet at the squatter-held Duchess of Bedford apartments during the morning, but sympathizers with squatters who seized the Abbey Lodge apartments, near Regent's park, staged a "lie down" strike in the street.

Talks on World Peace Outlook

A "united states of Europe" with Esperanto as the unifying language is the only solution to Europe's complex problem, Frank Warner of the Fixible company, Loudonville, told Mansfield Co-Operative club members at their meeting Tuesday night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Speaking on "Co-Operation, the Road to World Peace," Warner said: "We won this war because we still approved of the spirit of cooperation and free enterprise.

"Unless we settle this peace with determination, with cooperation on a human basis, I hate to think what may happen, as in the atom bomb we have created a monster which may destroy us—or worse—our children," he said.

Club President S. R. Baird presided and Dr. J. Dunham introduced the speaker.

JAPS DEMONSTRATE

TOKYO—(INS)—Several thousand aged mothers and fathers demonstrated in front of the imperial palace yesterday. Speakers protested failure of the Russians to repatriate Japanese nationals from Soviet-occupied areas of Asia. Petitions asking immediate return of the Japanese were submitted to General MacArthur, the Japanese government and to the Soviet embassy.

Five coastal New Jersey counties waged a 10-year war on mosquitoes. It was successful and real estate values rose $100,000,000.

SHORT RALLY FAILS TO END STOCK SLUMP

Motors Lead in Renewal of Downswing; Buyers Show Bear Market Shyness.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stocks, led by motors, generally resumed the retreat in today's market after an early attempt to keep the rally going failed to attract buyers.

Brokers repored considerable profit cashing on Wednesday's comeback and some further selling by those who felt that the recovery in the preceding session was mainly a partial technical correction of the recent sharp slump.

A certain amount of bidding, it was added, still was predicated on the thought that more of an upswing was in the cards.

Prominent losers included Chrysler, General Motors, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Anaconda and Allied Chemical. Resistant were Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Caterpillar Tractor and Union Carbide.

HAM PROMISED

Lions Say They'll Give It as Picnic Prize.

A real ham and nylons are among prizes to be awarded winners of contests at the Lions club family picnic Sunday at 2 p. m in Liberty park, rain or shine. Meat, milk, coffee and ice cream will be furnished but members are requested to bring table service. Clarence Bemiller is in charge of picnic arrangements with Henry Albert handling children's and Emmett Miller adult events.

A stag party will be held at A. J. Burkhart's "Rancho del lago" Oct. 16. A. David Thomas is committee chairman.

The Lions last night initiated five "cubs" at a closed meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Inducted were Sherm Gage, Franklin Smeltzer, Kenny Cooke, Bob Moorhead and Ralph Schad.

The candidates appeared as directed—not dressed in their best clothes—but what happened remains a mystery.

LOSES FINGERS

MILLERSBURG — Theodore Martin, who lives on the former W. O Miller farm, had three fingers of his left hand amputated at a hospital in Dayton, as a result of them catching in machinery on an oil well rig. Falling asleep while at work, he started to fall, with his hand catching in the machinery.

Briefs

Families Meet—The Dillon reunion will be held next Sunday at Prospect park, it has been announced.

Grass Burns — Firemen were called to the home of T. J. Dickerson, 635 West Third street, yesterday about 2:30 p. m. where burning rubbish caused a grass fire, firemen said.

Dog Bites Boy—Seven-year-old John Rohal, 60½ Harker street, was bitten on the left leg last night by a dog owned by an Orchard street resident, police reported. The boy was treated by a physician.

Car, Bicycle Stolen—L. E. Ernsberger, 93 Dawson avenue, reported to police theft of his 1937, coach-model car last night from Weldon avenue, while George Riley, Mansfield, R. D. 1, reported the theft of a bicycle on Main street.

Meet Sunday—Former Marines have been asked to attend a meeting next Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Municipal courtroom at the city building. The organization of an all-Marine club and opening of clubrooms will be discussed, Roy Wilkins, Commandant of Richland detachment, said.

County Receives Money — The county auditor's office today received from the state auditor's office $13,288 as the September disbursement of local government funds from the state retail sales tax. It will go into a fund to be distributed to corporations, townships and the county itself in December, it was said.

Teacher Hired — Miss Mary Tucker of Lucas has been hired as a third grade teacher for the Springfield township school, Boyd Robinson, county schools superintendent, said today. Still needed in the county school system is a fifth grade teacher at Bellville and an instrumental and voice music teacher, the latter for a month only, at Lucas school, Robinson reported.

Ordered to Court — Three motorists, charged with speeding, were ordered to appear in municipal court tomorrow and Sept. 21. Ordered to appear tomorrow was William Howard, of New London, charged with driving 55 miles an hour on U. S. Route 42-N. William H. Wilson and Julian R. Kujawa, of Houston, Tex., were released on $25 bond for their appearance Sept. 21 Both were accused of driving 60 miles an hour on U. S Route 42-N.

COMMUNITY FUND GOAL GIVEN BOOST

directors threw into their general fund this year money that had been in reserve since before the formation of the Community Fund in 1920. This represented gifts from individuals made during the second decade of the century. This money will give the association a balance of approximately $4,018 at the end of this year and it is anticipated that an additional $1,850 will be received from clients. The organization, therefore, sought only $626, from the Community Fund.

St. Vincent de Paul Society, with a balance of $2,780 asked for $4,200 this year as compared with $6,000 last year. The Girl Scouts, with a balance of $722 in their operating account, asked for $5,131 and estimated another $2,044 from other sources.

The Dental Clinic's request for $1,760 was $398 less than last year because of a $532 balance. Although the YWCA asked for $9,213, a sum slightly under last year's figure, they indicated their need to come back to the Fund sometime next year if they are able to secure an employed girls secretary. The YW has had no regularly employed girls secretary since the 1930's, but the increasing employment figure among women has long pointed up the necessity to make this addition to the staff, according to Miss Willetta Lewis, general secretary of the organization, who appeared before the budget committee. Permission to fill this long-time vacancy was granted and funds to meet the increase were set up in a general contingency fund, Nail said.

The Friendly House was granted its request for $12,898 and an additional $850 on its agreement to eliminate an associate membership drive which normally raised the latter sum. This action is in line with the Community Fund's program to eliminate all supplemental drives by its own 11 agencies except the bona fide membership drives of the YMCA and YWCA which are prescribed by national policies of both organizations.

The remaining agencies and amounts they received are: Milk Fund and Student Aid $1,523 plus a balance of $477; the Hospital Bureau, $6,974 plus a balance of $3,026; the YMCA $12,342, with a balance of $1,977 and an estimated income from members and other sources of $8,023; Boy Scouts, $7,971 and an income from the remainder of the area and other sources of $9,075; and the Salvation Army $8,900 plus an income from others of $4,512.

The Salvation Army was the only one of the agencies this year that was not granted its full request. Nail said that an item of $720 for an assistant is the county detention home had already been granted by the county commissioners and another item of $221 was duplicated in another figure. Thus $900 was deducted from the Army's request of $9,800

He further explained that the entire budget is broken down for the following services: youth services, $48,405, family dependency, $15,123; hospital service and other public health, $9,360; administration, $6,979; campaign, $3,000 (three and three tenths of the total); $5,000 shrinkage for uncollectable accounts; and $6,200 for agency contingencies.

Nail explained that the over all net increase in the Community Fund budget this year was considerably below the per cent of increase in other Ohio cities.

Last year the campaign publicity committee held its first meeting and mapped out plans its part in the drive which opens Oct. 14 and runs through Oct. 23. Elmer Eckert is chairman of the committee.

Nail said today that the figures set up by his committee will be presented to the Community Fund executive committee for approval and to the Public Appeals Review Board at its next meeting.

She is survived by one son, Delbert, of New London; one brother, Richard Gettle, of New London, one sister, Mrs. Emily Knowlton, of New London, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Fitch funeral home, New London, at 2 p. m. Saturday by the Rev. W. Mitchell of the First Methodist church. Interment will be made in the Grove Street Mausoleum.

Traffic Violators Get Report Cards

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(U.P.)—Traffic violation tickets designed like report cards will decide whether offenders will be fined in five Michigan cities.

Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo will use a standardized ticket on which six principal offenses are listed. A numerical grade corresponding to the seriousness of the offense and the conditions surrounding it will be given. The total score will indicate whether the offender will receive only a warning or an automatic court summons.

11 Fined In City Court

Eight motorists charged with speeding were fined a total of $80 and costs yesterday in traffic court. Three others were fined a total of $20 and costs on other traffic violation charges.

Fined $10 and costs each on speeding charges were: Adolph Stern, Cleveland; Meldum Gray, jr., Lakewood; William T. Rook, Philadelphia, Pa.;

Arnold D. Braman, Shaker Heights; James M. Adkins, 305 West Third street; Herman J. Grosskopf, Mansfield, R. D. 5; Phillip N. Mundy, 119 North Walnut street, and Lemuel E. Parker, 203 West Park boulevard.

A. B. Snider, 292 Ohio street, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of unsafe operation of a motor vehicle; Jerry Stapleton, 131½ Vale avenue, $5 and costs, improper lights, and Earl Lee, jr., Bellville, $5 and costs, disregarding a traffic signal.

There is no federal law forbidding the total destruction of coins by their owners.

PREDICT DEFEAT OF GARBAGE TAX

Observers See Little Chance Council Will OK Plan.

Al Strachan has estimated it costs the city $10.78-a-year to provide the $7.20-a-year service.

Councilmen favoring the levy point out that in addition to taking the garbage department out of the red it would also make garbage collection service compulsory as has been recommended by Dr. W. B. Wild, city-county health commissioner.

The service is currently on a "take-it-or-leave-it" basis and Dr. Wild says that many persons who don't subscribe to the service dispose of garbage illegally, thereby creating a health hazard.

Councilmen against the levy declare that the tax would be unfair because it would mean that certain groups of people would be "paying for something they don't get."

These councilmen cite the fact that landlords would be required to pay garbage collection fees of their tenants and that industries needing no garbage service would be charged for it.

If the levy proposal fails, Councilman Knarr, chairman of the garbage committee, said council will have to "start from scratch" and work out some other plan for increasing the rates and for making the system compulsory.

MINE OWNERS DRAFT REPLY TO PROPOSAL

Operators in Private Session to Determine Action on Wage Suggestions.

WASHINGTON— (UP) —Bituminous mine operators remained noncommittal on government wage contract proposals today as they arranged private sessions to draft a reply.

The operators expected to submit a formal reply tomorrow afternoon at a meeting with Adm. Ben Moreell, government coal administrator, President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers (AFL) and other UMW leaders.

In general, the management spokesmen seemed somewhat favorably impressed by Moreell's proposals, which were submitted yesterday as a starting point in negotiations for a private contract. Until the industry and the UMW agree on a contract, the government will retain control of the mines seized May 29 after a long strike.

Moreell's proposals followed the pattern of the government contract signed May 29 by Lewis and Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug. The mines still are operating under that contract.

Lewis represented an unknown quantity in the current negotiations. He made no comment on Moreell's suggestions and asked the operators to make an offer.

Lewis did not disclose whether he would demand concessions beyond those provided in the government contract, saying merely that the union had no proposals to offer at the outset.

While both Lewis and the operators wanted to get out from under the government contract, there was still no evidence of optimism on either side that they would be able to agree.

Motorist Lauds Officer's Work

Once in a bookful of traffic tickets is a policeman complimented by a motorist.

Officer Howard Dickson, of the Mansfield police department, received that compliment yesterday.

Said Oran C. Wilson, of the Wilson Products company, Cleveland, in a letter to city council:

"Officer Dickson was exceptionally courteous and helpful" while investigating an auto accident last Sunday "in which I was involved."

Wilson's car was struck from behind on Ashland road by another car as Wilson attempted to turn off the road.

"I wish to compliment you," Wilson continued in his letter to council, "on having such capable men on your police force."

Sadewitz . . . one-man campaign.

'Cyclist Visits County In His Campaign Against Cancer

A Brooklyn, N. Y., piano teacher who rides a bicycle for fun and to help make the American people conscious of the anti-cancer campaign, was on his way again today after visiting Mansfield and Shelby during the past two days.

Sadewitz, who has the support of the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer society, said he wants people to know "that cancer can be cured."

He uses signs on his bicycle, newspaper stories, radio talks and on-the-street talks "to spread the word."

Sadewitz, a concert pianist and teacher, says he gets no pay for his one-man drive. He lives on the money he makes in his piano work.

Ohio is the seventh state he's reached in his 10-state tour which began July 24. He plans to visit cities in Indiana, Michigan and New York before returning to Brooklyn.

During the war Sadewitz says he sold a half million dollars worth of war bonds on two, 2,000-mile bicycle tours. Because of the success of those tours he decided on a cancer drive by bycycle.

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

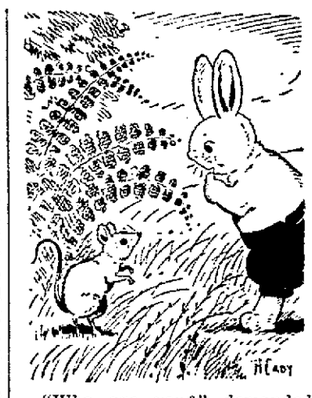
THE TRUTH AT LAST

In time the truth he'll surely find
Who seeks for it with open mind.
—Old Mother Nature.

His heart thumping with sudden fright Little Wobblenose crouched in a bramble-tangle far back in the Old Pasture. He had been sitting watching a big gray old Rabbit. It was Old Jed Thumper who had lived in the Old Pasture for a long, long time. He had suddenly thumped with a long hind foot. It was a hard thump, a startling thump. He had meant it to be startling. It had sent the little Rabbit plunging back into the bramble-tangle without waiting an instant. He had done it without thinking. Without ever having been told he somehow knew that that kind of a thump meant danger.

As he dived in under the friendly brambles he rolled his eyes back to look behind him. The old gray Rabbit had disappeared. Then out of the bushes leaped the friendly stranger in the red coat. He, too, disappeared in the bushes. The little Rabbit had only a glimpse of him, but somehow he didn't look friendly. On that sharp face was a fierce eagerness.

Could it be that he was chasing that big old Rabbit? That the latter was afraid and running away. Little Wobblenose crept back to the entrance where he could see better. For a few minutes he saw nothing unusual. Then he heard the sound of feet running. You and I might not have heard it, but those long ears of his did and he knew that those running feet were a Rabbit's feet. In a moment the old gray Rabbit came bounding down a cowpath. Right in front of little Wobblenose he stopped, turned and sat up to look back. It was for only a moment. Then he turned and bounded away down the cowpath. He was hardly out of sight when the stranger in the red coat passed. He was running easily, but fast. The little Rabbit had a glimpse of those long white teeth, for the stranger's mouth was open just enough to show them. There was an intent hungry look in the eager eyes. The twitching little nose of the small Rabbit caught a whiff of that unpleasant smell, the Fox scent. He sat staring down the old cowpath long after Reddy Fox was out of sight.



"Who are you?" demanded the small Rabbit bluntly.

"I know now," said he at last.

"What do you know?" asked a squeaky voice. Peeping out from under a fern at the edge of the patch was a small person, much smaller than himself.

"Who are you?" demanded the small Rabbit bluntly. He wasn't afraid of one so much smaller than himself.

"Some folks call me Wood Mouse, some call me Deer Mouse and some call me Whitefooted Mouse. Take your choice," squeaked the small stranger and came wholly out into the path.

"Oh!" said Little Wobblenose, staring most impolitely at his new acquaintance. He was a pretty little fellow, dressed in a fawn-colored coat and white waistcoat. His hands and his feet were white, and his tail was long and slender. His eyes were dark and very bright. He was using them to look carefully all about, even up in the air. He sat up and with his dainty white hands washed his face in much the same way a Cat does.

"Don't stare. You make me feel uncomfortable. I don't like being stared at," he squeaked.

"Aren't you very young to be out all alone? Aren't you scared?" asked Little Wobblenose, making the mistake that so many make of judging another by size alone.

"I'm not young. I'm a grandfather. I'm a great-grandfather. For all I know I may be a great-great-grandfather. I'm old enough to be," squeaked the mouse indignantly. "Of course I'm scared. I wouldn't be here if I wasn't scared. When a Mouse forgets to be scared he doesn't live long. And if you are not scared it is because you are too young to be out of the shadow of your mother's tail. What is it that I overheard you say you know?"

"I know the truth about that fellow with the sharp face, the long teeth and the big tail. He isn't the friend he made himself out to be. He isn't to be trusted. I—I'm afraid of him," said the little Rabbit.

"If it is Reddy Fox you are talking about, and I take it that it is, you are lucky to have found out the truth in time. 'Never trust a Fox,'" squeaked the Mouse, hastily looking this way and that, then darting back under the fern.

The next story: "In a Bad Temper."

British Copy U. S. Plan for Armies

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery, chief of the British imperial staff, was here today seeking to learn more about the American general staff system.

Montgomery told a press conference the British already have adopted the American staff system of control and direction of armies. He said the British were the only army in the world who did not use a chief of staff system in World War II.

Boy Must Give $100 of Labor

A 14-year-old Warren road boy was under court order today to give Aaron Wellington, Harding road, $100 worth of his labor.

The unusual penalty was ordered yesterday by Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer, after the boy was convicted of shooting a 'coon dog Wellington valued at $175. The case had been continued from Sept. 4.

Investigators proved false reports which indicated the youth also may have stabbed a neighbor's pigs, tried to induce a small child to stick his hand in a steel trap, and set his dog on other dogs.

HOW DO YOU STAND ON THIS?

says MRS. E. J. BUCKLEY of Wilmington, Del.

"New Ethyl Cleaner washes finest glassware the safe and easy way. Contains no scratchy abrasives to mar the finish of delicate tableware, fixtures, windows or mirrors. It floats the dirt away!"

"So you say! I say Ethyl Cleaner is best for pots and pans!"

says MRS. BEATRICE BURGESS of Manchester, N. H.

"No more hard scraping and scouring of greasy pots and pans! New Ethyl Cleaner's revolutionary 'soapless suds' just float grease away. So quick. So easy. Gentle, too. Actually kinder to hands than famous beauty soaps."

"Come, come, now. I know it's best for cleaning my car!"

says MR. JOHN KENNEDY of Bennington, Vt.

"I wouldn't have believed any one cleaner could do such a quick job on paint, glass, chrome, and upholstery. Dirt and road film just float away. It's so easy to use!"

Everyone agrees new Ethyl Cleaner is better, faster, milder than soap for so many things!

You'll say new Ethyl Cleaner is the quickest, easiest cleaner you ever used. For dishes, woolens, lingerie, nylons—for lots of your daily cleaning jobs—those dirt-chasing "soaplessuds" will amaze you. Economical, too. Try it today!

Mansfield Firm Acquires Big New Jersey Plant

Mansfield took its place as one of the nation's three leading furniture manufacturing centers when the Sun Glow Industries, Inc., 270 West Sixth street, celebrated its 25th anniversary by acquiring at a cost of $1,500,000, this plant of one of the nation's oldest furniture manufacturing firms—Fergusons Inc., Hoboken, N. J., established in 1879.

Sun Glow's beginning dates from the consolidation in 1921 of three Ohio furniture factories, in Mansfield, Fredericktown and Bryan. The combined plants then employed some 125 persons and enjoyed an annual volume of about $1,000,000. Today the firm employs about 1,000 persons in Ohio, and has an annual volume of about $8,000,000.

The Bryan factory was closed soon after the consolidation, but in 1933 Sun Glow acquired a factory in Logan. This plant, the nation's largest consumer of maple wood furniture, uses 3 to 3½ million feet of maple each year.

The Mansfield factory was discontinued in 1934 but this city remained the home office for the Ohio factories. A factory at Tipp City, Ohio, was added in 1936.

During the war, Sun Glow turned its entire factory at Tipp City over to General Motors for war production. In its other plants the company manufactured desks for the army, bunks for the quartermaster, and bedroom suits for public housing.

Balyeat Mattress company, of Mansfield was acquired in 1945. At the same time, General Motors discontinued use of the Tipp city plant and production of furniture soon will be in full swing there.

Sun Glow, with some 6,200 dealers throughout the nation, has acquired the name "the maple house" because of its Logan factory. Other woods are utilized, however, in the manufacture of products.

Original officers of the company are no longer connected with it. The present officers are Jules Levinson, New York city, president; and Hal N. Craiger, vice president in charge of sales; Carl Schwier, vice president in charge of production; Wilfred Scheifley, comptroller, and Harold Balyeat, manager, Balyeat division, all of Mansfield, and Ben Ross, New York city, secretary-treasurer.

FSA WORKERS TO ATTEND MEET

Farm Agency Staffs to Go to Smithville Sept. 24.

Richland and Ashland county Farm Society administration officials are expected to attend an all-day training session Sept. 24 at Smithville Inn, near Wooster.

The all-day meeting will provide instruction for supervisors and committeemen from Richland, Ashland, Holmes, Wayne, Stark, Columbiana, Licking and Knox counties, Henry F. Hedden, Richland-Ashland county FSA supervisor, said.

Purpose of the meeting is to bring new committee members up-to-date on the FSA program and to give all members a chance to participate in discussions of how they can best meet reconversion problems.

The Richland county committee is composed of Chairman Irvin O. Rinehart, Mansfield, R. D. 5, Frank D. Eastman, Greenwich, R. D. 2, and Mrs. Helen R. Baer, Mansfield, R. D. 5, while those on the Ashland county committee are Chairman Wallace Canfield, Ashland, R. D. 3, Eugene P. Fluke, Nankin and Mrs. Florence B. McDanel, Ashland, R. D. 1.

Eastman and Fluke are the new members on the committees from the two counties.

80,191, Ex-OSR Inmate Ready for Another Try

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Prisoner 80,191 at the Ohio penitentiary here will "return to life" Sept. 26, determined this time to make it last.

Prisoner 80,191 is a small man, with silver hair, blue eyes, a mild voice and spectacles. He is 51, but looks older.

"His mother's death did that to him—aged him so you almost wouldn't recognize him," said Warden Frank D. Henderson.

To inmates of the "pen," prisoner 80,191 is familiar as editor of the weekly "Ohio Penitentiary News."

His case is a strange one. As a youth he studied for the priesthood for seven years. Then something changed.

"I came home from the convent school for vacation once, and I told mom I wasn't going back. That's all there was to it."

But it was difficult to adjust to the outside world.

"I couldn't seem to fit any place. Maybe I just took the easiest way out. I began to drink."

A companion induced him to try for "some easy money."

"It was me who got caught," said 80,191.

In Mansfield reformatory, 80,191 picked up a library book on writing. When he got out he decided to write. He took a home study course in journalism, but he couldn't seem to get a job.

In a few years, he had taken the "easiest way out" again.

When he was paroled from Ohio penitentiary after his second conviction for petty thievery, he got a job on the Chicago Tribune; later worked on with the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Fortunately or unfortunately, I got married," said 80,191 slowly. "My wife came from a fine family and she was devoted to me and I to her."

Somehow he couldn't bring himself to share his secret with his wife. He feared he would lose her. The prison record assumed the proportions of monstrous shame in his mind. Finally he couldn't bear it any longer. He took the "easiest way out" again—liquor.

"That was seven years ago," 80,191 said, "I haven't seen her since. I guess I became a drifter again, and well . . ."

Three and a half years ago, he was back in the "pen."

Now the prison newspaper has given him a new lease on life. He received encouragement from teachers, officials, newspapermen and clergymen. And, the editor of an Ohio paper has promised to help when 80,191 is released.

A colored fluid has ben developed for use with contact lenses as a replacement for external sun glasses.

GOP Platform Seeks Complete Liquidation of Dem New Deal

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio Republicans had formally launched their campaign for the fall elections today on a platform calling for complete liquidation of the New Deal and the defeat of "the present New Deal governor.

In party platform declarations and speeches by top-flight candidates and party leaders at yesterday's state convention, they declared the new deal Democrat party candidates were intertwined with Communism and the CIO-PAC.

The platform declared, "to oust the New Deal in Washington requires digging out its roots in the state."

Former Gov. John W. Bricker, the party's nominee for U. S. senator declared in a speech last night that Communists not only have "sneaked into our labor organizations and in many instances control them," but also "occupy high places in government."

Bricker flung out a challenge to the CIO's political action committee which endorsed his opponent, Senator James W. Huffman, Democrat.

The party platform sharply assailed the New Deal, OPA and the administration of Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

In keynoting the convention Senator Robert A. Taft charged that this country was "in as much danger from abroad as before the war" because the Democratic administration had "failed in its foreign policy."

The convention promptly adopted a platform declaration asserting that "our foreign policy should not be determined by any one man or one party," and asserted belief in the building of a bi-partisan American foreign policy."

Principal platform planks called for a full investigation of the state liquor department; "immediate substantial reduction in state taxes" with the state vacating certain tax fields in favor of local governments; submission of the question of a soldiers' bonus to a vote of the people and further legislative and administrative action that may be necessary to provide adequate veterans' housing.

Another platform declaration pledged adequate public school funds and criticized Governor Lausche's veto of the last school appropriation bill.

Any extension of the OPA beyond the transition period of war-caused shortages was opposed in platform declaration which also asserted opposition to a "policy of peacetime price control and rationing."

In its labor declaration the platform asserted that strikes against the government should be outlawed by statute and that collective bargaining contracts between labor and management should "be fully binding on both parties, and such contracts must not be nullified by violence on either side."

"Racketeering" it said "must not be tolerated in our economy."

"We condemn the New Deal policy of nullifying wage increases by inflationary policies resulting in increased prices."

The platform in general followed policies asserted by Thomas J. Herbert, the gubernatorial candidate, who said in his convention speech that the primary objective in the campaign "is the digging out of the New Deal at its roots. Herbert charged that Governor Lausche had failed to redeem a pledge to work for tax reduction, an increase in public school financing and economy in administration of the state government.

Herbert also criticized his opponent for allegedly doing nothing to alleviate the veterans housing situation until a year after V-J day.

Rosalind Wants 'Em Short And Irene's Quite Unhappy

HOLLYWOOD —(U.P.)—Rosalind Russell, the U. S. government, and movie fashion experts were all tangled up today in women's skirts —and the length thereof.

Irene, MGM's top designer, would like to see 'em dusting the floors again. Miss Russell, who always hits the list of America's ten best-dressed women, says nix.

And the Civilian Production Administration wants to hold the skirt line right where it is. There's not enough cloth to lower hemlines, it says.

"The first thing we know the fashion-makers would have skirts back at that gosh-awful 1929 length—where only an X-ray could tell whether a leg was well-turned or not!" snorted Miss Russell.

"Short skirts are ugly—all those knees and things," Irene decrees. "And the hemlines can't stay where they are. It isn't stylish to keep them at the same length all the time. So—down to the floor it is."

Government Order No. L-85 limits the length of female skirts, length and fullness of sleeves, and the size of hems.

CPA officials say they'd like to let the ladies be stylish and wear longer skirts if they want to. But there's not enough cloth.

"If we even dropped the hemline as much as two inches," one spokesman explained, "it would take 50,000,000 more yards of goods."

And, knowing the ladies, he predicted they'd all dash out right away to buy more suits and dresses.

GEMS FOUND

Valuable Jewels Uncovered By Raids in Germany.

FRANKFURT —(AP)— Surprise raids throughout the American and British occupation zones of Germany have uncovered millions of dollars worth of precious stones and metals hidden by the Nazis shortly before Germany surrendered, United States army headquarters announced today.

A spokesman for the United States army intelligence division said it was "conjectural but conceivable" that the hoard might have been designed to finance "a resurgence of German nationalist movements."

The raid was the largest joint operation by the British and Americans since dissolution of the war-time supreme headquarters of Gen. Eisenhower.

Gasoline Revenue Gains $6,801,421

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio's gasoline tax produced $26,397,245 in the first seven months of this year, an increase of $6,801,421 over the comparable period of 1945, the department of taxation reported today.

The liquid fuel tax aggregated $8,802,719, a gain of $2,293,487 over last year.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1946

Due to a parts shortage, it is reported some cars are coming out of Detroit with no name plates—so how's one to know which are the "cheap" ones?

The modern "Old Mother Hubbard" not only goes to the cupboard, but also to the meat market, where she finds conditions much the same.

Those amateur market plungers who lost their shirts by the recent drop in stocks should have taken into account that they probably can't find another one now.

Crisis Reached In Maritime Strike

NEAR APPROACH to the hypothetical situation of "an irresistible force meeting an immovable body" is found in the present alignment of maritime unions against the government of the United States.

Turndown by the WSB of demands of striking maritime workers for wage increases in excess of those accorded under the stabilization plan has developed a situation in which one side or the other will have to make concessions if the already serious strike is to be prevented from assuming disastrous proportions.

Division of the Wage Stabilization Board into a 4-2 decision, with two labor members voting against the majority, reveals the bitterness of feeling that has entered into consideration of differences.

As the controversy now moves to the higher authority of Reconversion Director John R. Steelman, closest adviser of President Truman on labor matters, it may be assumed that some solution will be found which will bring about resumption of work by the striking seamen, but what effect this will have on the entire wage stabilization program cannot yet be foreseen.

Insofar as shipowners are concerned, the disputed wage increases have been agreed upon through collective bargaining, but it is the government that stands in the way of carrying through the agreement, because of stabilization limits decided upon.

Breakup of WSB appears likely, whatever the outcome, as public members would probably resign in the event of being overruled, while the labor representatives on the board threatened to withdraw if the board refused to reverse its previous ruling.

Use of Atomic Bomb Was Justified

ADMIRAL William F. Halsey has been prattling that it was a mistake to drop the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima. He says it was "unnecessary" and he "blames" the scientists. Just as though there were really some guilt involved, the Federation of American Scientists replies that the joint chiefs of staff and the president made the decision to use the bomb.

This nonsensical talk should end right now. There is no point in letting Communists and squeamish moralists make capital of the notion that the United States had no right to drop the atomic bomb.

It was a weapon of war used at the height of war. Japan attacked the United States without warning. The Japanese tortured and murdered American fliers, contrary to all the rules of war. The Japanese used the most efficient weapons of death and destruction they could find. They, like Hitler, would have used poison gas had they not feared that we had more deadly gases. They certainly would have used the atomic bomb had they been able to develop it first.

The United States was entirely justified in using the bomb to end the war quickly—which is exactly what it did!

Likewise, the United States is entirely justified in using the atomic bomb as a weapon of diplomacy—as a bluff and an actual threat. Other nations will so use it as soon as they learn its secret. To ignore it is pure nonsense.

And, as for the sensational commentators who are now feigning ability to predict another war, only one point need be considered. It is this: no nation is going to war with the United States unless it has the atomic bomb or is convinced we would not use the bomb again.

Divorce Mills Grinding Rapidly

AN EFFORT is being made in Detroit to expedite the handling of divorce decrees, which are now flowing through the courts at an unprecedented rate—125 cases having been cleared one day this week, with nine judges giving full time to handling uncontested divorce suits.

New divorce actions are being filed in Detroit at the rate of 150 to 250 a day, and some simplified form of severing marital bonds seems advisable if courts are to find time for other duties.

"Hasty marriages" are principally blamed for a situation that must be corrected if juvenile delinquency resulting from broken homes is to be reduced to any considerable extent.

How the Black Market Operates

THE Saturday Evening Post recently ran an extraordinarily graphic article entitled "Confessions of a Black-Market Butcher." Dodges used to circumvent the law are described in detail. In one instance, an undertaking establishment and the undertaker's hearse were used to collect and handle illegal beef. The profits were enormous. To quote the anonymous author's own words, "I've cleared more in the last three years than my father, who owned the shop, made in thirty-five years. . . . I've been socking it away where the income-tax boys won't find it."

Legitimate meat dealers, he observes, and old established packing houses sold meat at ceiling prices—when they could get meat. But their supply was nothing in light of the demand. The black market was siphoning off the bulk of it. And in this connection the writer makes this extremely important observation: "You got a black market because the government didn't enforce price ceilings, and brain-trusters who knew nothing about the business made dumb rules that encouraged breeders, packers, farmers and dealers like me to cheat."

That's worth thinking about, now that OPA ceilings on meat prices have been restored.

Nasty crack department: "We hope our Tigers never sink so low in the baseball world that they have to hire a clown circus to coax customers. . . . Well-played baseball doesn't need sideshows."—Detroit News.

A Columbus Dispatch optimist cheerfully notes: "It's marvelous how a new paint job on the old bus satisfies the longing for a new car."

CIO Opposes Major Strikes Now, Murray 'Gets Tough' On Subject

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It is no accident that the AFL, not the CIO, is in the strike headlines today.

In the first place, CIO Chief Phil Murray held a secret meeting with his cohorts recently in which it was decided to postpone all major strikes for the time being. In the second place, certain AFL leaders (though not the majority) are not averse to a little labor trouble right now in order to defeat the Democrats at the polls in November.

John L. Lewis is the leader of this group, with George Meany and Matt Woll tagging along behind. They are playing close to the Republicans.

Embarrassment of the Truman administration was behind Lewis's telegram to striking maritime leader Harry Lundeberg, offering United Mine Workers' cash to support AFL sailors. With congress in recess, many AFL leaders also feel there is no danger of reviving the Case Bill or passing other restrictive labor legislation.

Incidentally, it used to be the other way round; namely that labor wanted congress in session to keep a weather eye on big business. Now strikes have a better chance with congress out of session.

CIO leaders have just the opposite view about strikes at this time. In various conferences, Phil Murray has pointed out to his men that unfortunately the public has been sold on the National Association of Manufacturers' propaganda that labor is responsible for current price increases. While this propaganda, Murray said, is untrue, the best policy for intelligent labor leaders is to cut out major strikes for the time being and attempt to educate the public on the real facts.

Murray Gets Tough.

How deadly in earnest Murray is about no-strikes-at-this-time was indicated by a verbal battle he had with Harry Bridges of the West Coast Longshoremen during last June's threatened CIO maritime strike. Bridges was determined to call his men out. Joe Curran of the National Maritime Union thought an agreement could be worked out without a strike. Murray sat as arbitrator.

"I will not have a maritime strike at this time charged up to the CIO," Murray told Bridges. "If you succeed in staging a strike, I'll disown you publicly, Harry Bridges. And I'll do my best to throw you out of the CIO."

Stock Market Slump.

Washington economists have been closely scrutinizing the stock market situation. While no one expects Truman's two-bit bankers from Missouri to know much about the stock market, some of the old Roosevelt economists who worked with the Securities and Exchange Commission for years still have their ear to the ground. Here is their private summary of the Wall Street situation:

The market slump was caused largely by a mass of panicky small buyers who figure a depression is coming and want to sell out first.

The big buyers didn't sell. Many of them even came into the market to snap up bargain prices.

On the same day of the big slump, General Tire and Rubber declared a $5 dividend for six months, but despite that, its stock dropped to $38. Gimbels is making about $25, but its stock dropped to under $30. These are extraordinary profits. In general the rate of return is now better than during the boom year of 1929.

Economists conclude that while the present prosperity can't last indefinitely it has some time yet to go, and the present momentum will carry us at least into early spring. Worst danger is in case the inflationary trend gets out of control.

Ball Fan Eisenhower.

One night during the Yugoslav crisis, General Eisenhower was at the ball park in Washington watching his favorite team, the Senators, when an adult newsboy came by and dropped a Washington Post in his lap. An eight-column headline across the front page read: "United States Sends Ultimatum to Yugoslavia."

"No paper now," said the Chief of Staff, engrossed in the ball game and scarcely glancing at the headline.

"Take it with my compliments, General," said the newsboy. "It looks as if you're going to be my boss again."

Flour Goes to Waste.

Small flour mills and flour distributors all over the country are facing serious trouble because of the agriculture department's sudden reversal of its policy on flour.

Last spring when food famine talk was at its highest, the department ordered darker flour. Many mills went to work, turned out as much as a year's supply of the darker flour. Then, without warning, the department permitted a return to real white bread.

Now dark flour is beginning to rot in mills and warehouses.

GOP Revolt.

A revolt is brewing in the Republican party against the "sit tight" policy of the new GOP national chairman, Carroll Reece, former congressman from Tennessee.

GOP followers of the late Wendell Willkie have been protesting none-too-privately in Washington and elsewhere that the dignified GOP chairman is taking a Republican victory in the congressional elections this November too much for granted. They want him to begin showing better results or get out.

The Willkieites, who backed former Treasury Under-Secretary John Hanes against Reece for the chairmanship, are now shouting "I told you so" at Reece's old guard supporters.

I DON'T know but what it would be a good idea to give our civilization back to the Indians after all. Just now it looks like the only difference between 'em and the modern inhabitants is that they wore feathers, rode ponies and had a little more regard for members of their own tribe.

The Red Man didn't tommahawk his own encampment and starve his own people.

What gets me is the complacency of the president of the United States. With the country in a state of SNAFU unsurpassed in its history he don't seem any more disturbed than if he had mislaid his fishing rod.

It seems to me that the mystery of the stock market ain't what made it go down but what held it up so long.

Timely Editorial

Black Market Robbery.

The ramifications of black markets go far deeper than most people realize. One of the most serious losses resulting from the diversion of meat animals from legitimate packing houses to illegal channels is that of drugs.

The average housewife who patronizes a black market butcher would be incensed if she were accused of killing a diabetic or condemning a child to a life of imbecility. But that is the case when valuable by-products of the packing house go into garbage dumps. The glands of cattle and sheep provide many of our most valuable drug products. Only with the facilities of large packing plants can these be preserved for medical use.

OPA in demanding a return of meat ceilings assumes the responsibility of safeguarding these vital products. If price control authorities cannot wipe out black markets, they must answer to the thousands of suffering Americans who depend upon these drugs for life.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Amputees Make Good In Jobs and Sports.

CLEVELAND — They had just finished up a pretty hot tournament out at one of the local golf courses the other day and the caddies still were sitting around talking about some of the scores.

The winner, for instance, shot in the low eighties—he had to, for that matter, if he hoped to win the trophy, because he was playing without a handicap.

Without a handicap, did I say? Well, without a stroke handicap. And perhaps without as much of any sort of handicap as you might think, considering the fact that he and every single golfer in the tournament was an amputee!

The meet was sponsored by Cleveland's "Possibilities Unlimited, Inc., a unique organization composed of about 300 veteran and non-veteran amputees.

In a short time now, they'll start their fall and winter bowling league, for they manage to get into some sort of sports the year around—even though they're single, double and triple amputees.

"They find out after a while that the average amputee is not disabled, in the normal sense of the word," said Carl Williams, office manager of the organization. "They find out that there's almost no kind of work they can't do if they want to."

Carl, ex-captain in the First Infantry division, and Dick Curtis, former navy man who handles the outfit's vocational program, are the only two non-amputees involved. They have downtown offices and headquarters where meetings are held, jobs discussed, sports events and picnics are planned and just plain bull sessions are staged.

Also, it's a downtown spot where amputees can drop in to rest, adjust a wrinkled sock over a leg stump without being stared at, and smoke awhile before going to work or going home.

Purpose of the organization, now nearly two years old, is to help amputees get back to a normal sort of life as quickly as possible. Although currently it is concentrating on veterans, since they make up the majority of its membership, its original founders were non-veterans and it has many members whose amputations resulted from accidents in civilian life.

The job-getting angle is one of the most important, and firms in Cleveland and nearby areas have co-operated whole-heartedly with the project.

As a result, the army's Percy Jones hospital center at Battle Creek, Mich., not long ago requested "Possibilities Unlimited" to aid in locating jobs for various amputee veterans now being released on 3-day convalescent leave.

"We've had pretty good luck on that score," Williams said. "Right now we only have about five guys who could use work who don't have it, and four of those will be starting to school pretty soon. The fifth is holding out for a specialized type of job."

Since a few civilian amputees started the organization in December, 1944, veterans with missing limbs have been placed in jobs in government work, clerical positions, precision machine operating, assembly-line, banks, electrical repair shops, plumbing firms, sales companies and the like.

"Employers are more than satisfied with their work and are asking for more," Williams said. "We could place several others now."

There are other sides to the organization's activity. For one thing, the membership tests new artificial arms, legs and various devices aimed at doing the work of the missing limb. When some such gadget hits the amputee market, a few of the members try it out for a month or two.

Then an open forum is held, with the other amputees and some outsiders shooting questions at the guinea-pig members. When they're through, they have a pretty good idea as to whether it's a worthwhile device or not—for they pull no punches—and reports are filed with the army, the Veterans Administration, the manufacturer and other amputees across the country.

Already, they've brought about improvements in several devices.

But not all their time is spent on the physical phases of their handicap. (A word they detest, incidentally.) With sports, with parties and with all-around kidding one another, they adapt themselves mentally to their situation as well.

Boss Crump Shows Signs of Being Worried.

WASHINGTON — The special senate committee to investigate campaign expenditures has taken a commendable step by ordering investigation of two southern primaries that attracted national interest.

That in Mississippi is concerned with Senator Bilbo, renominated by a close margin, and his open, widely publicized threats against voting by Negroes.

That in Tennessee is concerned with charges by the unsuccessful candidate for the U. S. senatorial nomination, Edward W. (Ned) Carmack, of expenditure of large sums of money on behalf of Senator McKellar, who won renomination, and of tactics employed by Boss Ed H. Crump's machine in Memphis and by the Crump-McKellar forces elsewhere in the state, including McMinn county. It was at Athens, in McMinn county, that the revolt of war veterans occurred against the local Biggs-Cantrell machine which has a tie-up with Boss Crump.

For the first time Boss Crump and his stooges and satellites are seemingly worried, judging from the screaming protestations about exposure of his machine's operations.

On returning from a vacation a fifth communication from Boss Crump was found since the writer's reporting of pre-election campaign tactics and what happened in Memphis on election day.

This most recent Crump communication was enclosure of a letter the boss wrote to A. N. Williams, president of Western Union, complaining because Western Union carried dispatches criticizing his regime in Memphis and Tennessee. Mr. Crump said "the Western Union Telegraph company no less than the papers that print these libelous articles is a party to this reprehensible practice."

This is another example of the fright tactics of the Memphis boss, long familiar to newspapers and press associations, the "worry technique," in which he sends repeated letters and telegrams complaining about what is written of his machine's operations.

Also awaiting was a long letter from James J. Pleasants, jr., a Crump henchman, city attorney of Memphis, who also doubled as campaign manager in Shelby county for the Crump-McKellar ticket. He was involved in the strange run-around procedure denying Ned Carmack the use of numerous public places to speak in Memphis, which Mr. Carmack reported to the senate committee, as well as in withholding sound trucks owned by private interests.

Mr. Pleasants did not refer in his letter to these infringements of political rights, nor to numerous others that were reported, nor to the flagrant abuse of election procedures witnessed on election day in Memphis. Among them was the wearing of Crump-McKellar placards by election officials supposed to be impartial. Obviously Mr. Pleasants did not observe the election.

There are always letters with an anxious postscript: "Please consider this strictly confidential," such as one from a businessman in another part of Tennessee who is sick of "money-controlled machine politics."

His admonition of secrecy indicated a normal fear of reprisals such as have occurred in Memphis and elsewhere under Boss Crump, as people know only too well.

The senate committee, of which Senator Ellender (D., La.) is chairman, has a real opportunity for public service by exposing the violation of civil liberties in Tennessee and striking a blow for clean and honest elections.

Idea of "Pastoral Germany" Repudiated.

NOW, at last, Secretary Byrnes has made clear that official American opinion agrees with those unofficial voices who protested during the war against the Morgenthau-Vansittart idea of a permanently rural Germany.

His speech was not, as some seem to think, solely a gesture of opposition to Russia. It was a belated recognition of the solid fact that the economic structure of Europe cannot be built around an industrial vacuum.

When the views of the secretary of the treasury were made known during the war, there was no official denial of them. Instead, they were seized upon by Goebbels and other propagandists as a means of stiffening German resistance.

It is a fair inference that the threat to reduce Germany to an agricultural state lengthened the war.

The half-way measure of Yalta and Potsdam did nothing to reassure Germans. The result has been 16 months of imperfect peace.

There is, of course, economic and political rivalry between the proposals of Russia and America for Germany. Both are playing for the confidence of the German people. Russia, through Molotov has already assured them of Russia's desire to unify Germany. The Soviet leader also hinted at a restoration to Germany of some of the eastern provinces desired by Poland.

The Byrnes speech, like that of Molotov, rejects the French policies regarding the Ruhr. It holds out the offer of assistance, to the end that Germany become self-sustaining.

In our case, we can help by supplying food and other material aid. In Russia's case, the offer is of land on which Germany can raise her own food. The net profit is the same, and the decisive element will be what happens in the politics of Germany. Will middle-class republicanism or working-class communism ultimately prevail? It is early to predict the answer to this question, but it is probable that both systems will exist in Germany for a long time to come.

In any event, Byrnes makes it clear that the United States is going to stay in Europe. His emphasis on this is to quiet German fear and Russian wishful thinking that we shall presently be getting sick of it all and withdraw across the Atlantic. This is a fact upon which all hope of peace must rest. It needs saying over and over.

It will be disagreeable for the United States to be put in a position where it essentially will be paying reparations to a defeated enemy, but help from us is a vital element in a policy which is the only guarantee of peace.

The cost of this, together with the cost of occupation, will be some hundreds of millions of dollars a year. Under favorable conditions, it will be necessary for five years. The chances are that it will be seven or eight years. No one can tell exactly how long, because Russia's purpose is to make us pay as much as possible toward Germany's recovery, and so the Soviet government can well play for time.

Russia still holds some millions of German workers and technicians as prisoners. They will be used to rebuild Russia.

Meanwhile, Russian occupation, however costly, pays dividends, for Russia is holding productive land and valuable industrial equipment.

And so the long struggle to crush Germany now passes into a new phase. With Russia we prevailed over the material body of Germany. Now in rivalry, not altogether friendly, we struggle to capture the German mind. There is irony in all this, but war itself is a paradox.

Farmer's Diary: "Our Airminded Daughter."

I WAS in the garden eating grapes, when an airplane circled twice over our little valley, dipped its wings and zoomed upward with a flip of the tail. Staring up, I fancied I saw an arm wave to me, but I couldn't be sure. It was a saucy looking little plane, trimmed in red with silver wings, and numbers on the sides.

Presently our collegiate daughted came home. "Did you see me?" she began. "You waved—did you know I was up in that airplane? Well, I was—"

"How'd you like it?"

"It's fine up there. You hit a bump once in a while, but it's wonderful when the engine roars and you feel it begin to lift . . . the valleys don't seem so deep nor the hills so high . . . the woods and the pastures and fields of corn are different shades of green, and the patches of plowed land are a drab gray cast . . . streams are curving threads that reflect the sunshine.

"A plane is such a light thing. It moves at the touch of a finger . . . this one was made of plywood with fiber wings painted with aluminum paint . . . the tail is just to balance it, there's nothing at all in it—I wondered, so I asked him . . . did you see it flip when we zoomed and went up? I'll bet I could fly one myself—all but taking off and getting back down again . . . there's nothing to it.

"We were up 29 minutes . . . I saw the Tigers out in full regalia practising foot ball."

Fifty years ago my three older brothers and I got a thrill from seeing the first bicycle pedaled along our country road. How dignified the owner of it looked, perched atop that big wheel that was trailed by a smaller one for balance. It moved ten miles an hour.

In the gay nineties railroads spurted ahead—the first large steam locomotive was a great adventure. A popular pastime then, was to frequent the railroad stations to see the trains come in.

Ten years afterward we watched our most progressive doctor guide his one-cylinder automobile down the pike. Horses shied and bolted. One day the first phonograph salesman came to our place. He sold wax cylinder records and the talking machine had ear tubes.

Radio, airplanes, television were dreamed of . . . smiled about skeptically. Now they are almost commonplaces. By leaps and bounds—by sons and daughters—the farmer's thinking becomes airborne. A group of Flying Farmers is already organized in our state.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

Mr. Heimerdinger was interviewing applicants to replace his private secretary who had resigned to get married. His assistant sat with him while he looked the young ladies over.

The first applicant was a luscious, blue-eyed blonde. The second was a photogenic red-head who looked like a Hollywood starlet. The third one was cross-eyed, single-toothed, and weighed about 240 pounds. When they were alone, Mr. Heimerdinger informed his assistant that he had decided to take the third applicant.

"For heaven's sake, why?" exclaimed the assistant.

Mr. Heimerdinger sighed. "In the first place," he said, "she looked very intelligent to me. In the second place, it is none of your business. And in the third place, she's my wife's sister."

An old grad was belittling the quality of present day gridiron warriors. "When I was in college," he told the coach, "I helped Williams trim Amherst three years in succession." "Zatso," nodded the coach. "Which team did you say you were playing for?"

Two buzzards were lazily winging over the Arizona desert when a jet-propelled plane suddenly went hurtling by, its exhaust belching flame and smoke. The buzzards silently watched it disappear into the Western sky, and then one of them found his voice. "Holy carrion," he said. "Was that bird in a hurry!" "Listen, Lucius," opined the other, "you'd be in a hurry too if your tail was on fire."

"Pay some attention to mama," a pretty girl demanded of her swain. Put on the spot, the young man cleared his throat and said with an ingratiating smile, "Mrs. Jones, the last time I saw a mouth like yours, there was a fish hook in it."

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, September 13.

CONTINUED lively and progressive conditions are forecast by highly stimulating and adventuresome incitements. It might be of benefit to reverse the tactics or to bring new ideas or creative factors into difficult or perplexing problems. Changes are to be entertained, but after sound and constructive operations are scientifically and rationally considered, not brought to critical culminations by rash, antagonistic or turbulent impulses.

Calm and composure, peace and harmony bring some enduring returns.

Those whose birthday it is may look fro a lively and exciting year with change geographically or in regard to plans or ideas of perhaps radical and long-range importance. The indications are for new and revamped plans and programs, which could be switched into alluring and romantic or dramatic adventure, but also might be turned into disastrous and unprofitable fields by false moves, strife, turbulence, or emotional incitements.

Study calmly and move slowly, for long-lasting happiness and progress.

A child born on this day may be blessed with originality, ingenuity, and exceptional skills, but may be prone to overdo by erratic or rash urges of emotions or temperament.

ON STAGE

When he completes "portraying himself" in Paramount's "Golden Earrings," Quentin Reynolds, noted author and war correspondent, returns to New York to serve as narrator for Ben Hecht's Broadway stage pageant, "A Flag Is Born."

JEANNE RUPP WEDS CHARLES V. WATSON

Rev. A. L. Linder Officiates at Candlelight Service Last Night; Reception at the Mansfield-Leland.

IN A CANDLELIGHT ceremony last night at the Park Avenue Baptist church Miss Jeanne Rupp became the bride of Charles V. Watson. Rev. A. L. Linder read the ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rupp, Alta west road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Watson, 85 Lind avenue.

Mr. Rupp gave his daughter in marriage before an altar banked with palms, ferns and baskets of gladioli and asters. The bride was gowned formal white nylon taffeta made with a sheer yoke trimmed with a cowled bertha and long tight sleeves. The full skirt extended in a long train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and a white orchid.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Charles Hawkins of Parkersburg, Pa., as matron of honor, and Miss Joan Kullman and Miss Joan Eichin as bridesmaids. All wore gowns of white similar to the bride's dress and white feather flowers in their hair. Mrs. Hawkins carried a bouquet of yellow and salmon colored gladioli and Miss Kullman and Miss Eichin carried deep red gladioli.

Don Watson was his brother's best man and Donald Eichin, Robert Wehman, Edward Klein and Ted Stiffler served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rupp chose an aqua crepe street length dress with which she wore black and white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Watson appeared in royal blue crepe with black accessories and red rose corsage.

Two hundred friends and relatives attended the reception held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The bridal table was decorated with vases of white roses and the five tierred wedding cake.

When leaving for a motor trip south, the new Mrs. Watson wore a white wine suit with black accessories and an orchid.

When the newlyweds return they will reside at the Alta road address.

The former Miss Rupp attended Mansfield school and was graduated from Hathaway-Brown school in Cleveland.

Mr. Watson, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and a veteran of three years in the army of the United States, is employed at the Gorman-Rupp company here.

Out-of-town guests attended the ceremony from Akron, Washington, D. C., and Mt. Vernon.

Randell Hartley, superintendent of the Shiloh schools announces the enrollment at the local school to be around 350 students. Mr. Darrell Heiser of Mansfield has been hired to coach and teach physical education and seventh and eighth grade. Mrs. Glasscock of Mansfield will teach commercial.

New York Notes

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

I Wonder What Became of Harry—A few nights ago in a projection room crowded with suitably admiring witnesses, I saw a preview of "The Jolson Story," which is Columbia Pictures' version of Al Jolson's biography, and I liked it so much I am going to present my hosts of that evening with another biography of Al Jolson, absolutely free. Not only that, but unencumbered by the occupational phobia of Hollywood screen writers, who are embarrassed to the point of repugnance by facts, I am going to base my life story of the mammy singer on, of all things, his life. I fully expect Harry Cohn to rush into production with it with every expectation of a smash success and no fear of duplicating anything in the current version.

My scenario has one thing in common with the one by authors Stephen Longstreet, Harry Chandler and Andrew Solt; it starts in the home of Cantor and Mrs. Yoelson, in Washington, D. C., and they have a son named Asa who sings. But there I start branching out. My Cantor and Mrs. Yoelson have two sons, one named Asa and one named Harry. Life is uneventful in the little house, or flat, until Asa bums his way to Baltimore to seek his fortune.

At first he experiences difficulty in eating steadily, but this is overcome when a friendly saloon keeper offered to trade him meals in return for a few songs. And thus, in an atmosphere of brass spittoons and beer-soaked mahogany, was launched one of the great talents of the American stage.

We do a montage now. Asa graduates to burlesque with a partner named Frank Moore, Asa becomes Al, Yoelson becomes Jolson, Al is joined by brother Harry and they work up a vaudeville act titled "The Jolson Brothers, Harry and Al, in 'The Hebrew and the Cadet'." James Francis Dooley catches the act, notes Al's slightly Southern accent, and suggests that it might be more effective if surrounded by burnt cork. Al becomes a blackface comedian.

Leaves flutter off the calendar. Al marries an actress named Henrietta Keller. More leaves flutter. She divorces him. In August, 1922, Al is famous and wealthy and 39 years old. He takes another bride, Alma Osborne, professionally known as Ethel Delmar. In August, 1926, 24 hours after Al tells reporters the rift rumors are nonsense, she gets a Paris divorce.

Meanwhile the Jolson popularity and earning capacity continue to skyrocket. A racing fan since 1900, he is now able to lose $110,000 in one day of racing at Jamaica without having it affect his appetite, and he has become class conscious enough to express his distaste for the mutuels system at the tracks by saying with considerable snobbery, "It will cheapen racing. You'll get a cheap crowd—women with hats on the side of their heads and their hair down." In 1924 he is not only a millionaire but a Republican, and President Calvin Coolidge invites him to breakfast and keeps a Cabinet meeting waiting while Al performs on the White House lawn.

The scenario gets really exciting in 1928 when Jolson is out in Hollywood making "The Singing Fool" and he meets a little dancer named Ruby Keeler. She is 19, and she falls in love with Al—so far in love that when she returns to Broadway and hears rumors that he is about to reconcile with Alma Osborne, she seeks him out at the Ritz Tower Hotel and threatens to kill herself. Two weeks later the camera finds Ruby and Al aboard the Olympic en route to a European honeymoon. This is September.

In November, the newspapers are printing rumors that the latest Jolson marriage is in trouble. In January Ruby and Al return from a Hawaiian vacation and refuse to pose together on the dock. A reporter (you know, Mr. Cohn, one of those movie reporters who take pictures, too) suggests, "Mr. Jolson, why don't you drop one of those leis over her neck."

"I'll drop something on her neck," says Al.

His life becomes increasingly colorful. In 1930 he bets $50,000 against $2,000 on Gallant Fox and wins. In 1933 he slugs Walter Winchell at the Hollywood Legion Stadium and is sued by Winchell for $500,000. In 1935 he and Ruby adopt a son at The Cradle in Evanston, Ill., and name him Al Jr. In 1939 Ruby files suit for divorce in California, saying "He called me stupid," and Al tells reporters "We both love each other." In 1941 brother Harry sues Al for $25,000, claiming Al promised to pay him $150 a week for life if Harry would refrain from using the name Jolson in his treatrical work. Georgia Hale sues him for leaving the cast of "Hold Onto Your Hat." There are comedy, pathos, hearthrobs, such as can only be hinted at in an outline of this brevity.

And in March, 1945, the weary millionaire finds surcease from the burdens of wealth and fame in the arms of Erle Galbraith, who becomes Mrs. Jolson No. 4, in time for a happy fadeout, which is more than you get in "The Jolson Story."

Goiter trouble is caused by malfunctioning of the thyroid gland in the neck.

Winchell — On Broadway

THE ERNEST HEMINGWAY short story which inspired Mark Hellinger's new hit at the Winter Garden inspired this column, too . . . It was a cinch going to the "morgue" and fingering the files. Have some shudders:

THELMA TODD, of the movies died of monoxide poisoning. After a complete investigation, the case was closed and called suicide though many questions remained unanswered . . . Later in Ogden, Utah, a telegram was received by the police department saying that the man who killed Thelma Todd was in Ogden . . . The man's name was given, and Mayor Harmon Perry of Ogden ordered the man held. The Los Angeles police refused to cooperate (in further investigation) telling Mayor Perry that Miss Todd had committed suicide and the case was closed!

Her body was found at 10:30 a. m. Monday morning of Dec. 16, 1935, slumped over the wheel of her car, dead. The police placed the time of death at 4 a. m. Sunday . . . But Mrs. Wallace Ford (an intimate friend of Thelma's) received a telephone call from her at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon, 12 hours after her death!

THE FIRST of the great newspaper trials was the murder of William Guldensuppe (by Martin Thorn and his accomplice, Mrs. Herman Nack) in which the body was completely dismembered and the trunk, arms, legs, skin, etc., put in separate packages and thrown in the river . . . The head, encased in plaster of paris, was also thrown in the river . . . The man paid with his life, but his mistress (Mrs.Nack, who turned State's evidence, was given 15 years . . . She, who had aided in this ghastly crime, was the life of many a party among her cell mates . . . She objected to the women prisoners smoking, saying: "Smoking makes girls tough—unfit for wifehood!"

IN THE BEEKMAN Hill massacre (in 1931) in which gorgeous Veronica Gedeon, her mother and lodger Frank Byrnes were slain, the police might never have located Robert Irwin (who confessed to the crime) had it not been for one of those "wanted for murder" pictures of Irwin in a true detective mystery mag . . . A pantry maid in a Cleveland hotel made the discovery, though she didn't take it seriously herself . . . One day, she laughingly put down her detective magazine and said, "This Bob, our new bar boy, looks a lot like Robert Irwin." When she confronted the bar boy with her little "joke" he left the hotel and never returned. It was a cinch for the police to locate him after that.

THERE ARE THOSE who to this day do not believe tht Robert Irwin, unstable sculptor, actually perpetrated the massacre of Ronnie Gedeon, her mother and the lodger . . . His confession means little since he'd been despondent due to frustration in his love life, his art, and his attempt to join the divinity. The notoriety of the confession might have compensated him slightly and given him the fame, though questionable and short-lived, that he had never been able to achieve through normal success in his profession . . . Remember the news pictures? He was nattily attired, smiling and flamboyant. Yet he had been discharged twice from insane asylums as legally sane.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Doctor Santiago M. Peralta, the director of migration of the Argentine republic, recently announced that Argentina would welcome immigrants in accordance with her necessities. I submit that this proposition is wise and should be our own guide.

In the case of the Argentine, farmers are preferred. I do not know what the "necessities" are which should guide the United States in a selection of immigrants as to their crafts. But, whatever they may be, we have a right to adopt our own discriminations for our own national benefit.

To those who will raise the most abusive protest against this proposal I would interrupt to point out that this has been our practice in selecting refugees from Europe ever since Hitler began to rise. This was stated officially to the foreign relations committee of the house of representatives in secret session on Nov. 26, 1943, by Breckenridge Long, who had command of a special division of the state department dealing with the refugee problem. Mr. Long said an advisory committee arbitrarily decided that certain individuals were "worthy to be saved in the cause of humanity—intellectuals — that is, authors, painters, orators, statesmen, political leaders and publishers of newspapers; men who, because of their race, religion, political beliefs and opposition to the Nazi regime would be killed."

I challenge Mr. Long's calm assumption that the "cause of humanity" was better served thus than it would have been served by the rescue of farmers, mechanics, or miners who instead were left behind to die because this committee had decided that "intellectuals" were more precious.

I have closely observed "intellectuals" in New York, Washington and Hollywood for a quarter of a century and state with authority that they are no more valuable to "humanity" than other persons. I contend, also, that we had no special need for such specialists. If Mr. Long had said that we selected individuals whose personal acquaintance, military and political information or scientific knowledge gave reasonable promise that they would be uncommonly helpful to us, as a nation, in the impending war, he would have made it difficult to criticize his admission. But he didn't say that and, in saying what he did say, he prepared a good ground for anyone who now argues that we have absorbed enough of such "intellectuals" and should consult our own "necessities" in the selection of further immigrants.

It is necessary to point out that the selection of immigrants from Europe is now and for some years past has been made on the basis of religion and racial or mass guilt. We are imitating Adolf Hitler, in reverse, when Germans, "suspected" of sympathizing with the Nazi regime, are arbitrarily rejected by our consuls when they apply for quota visas. Few "Aryan" Germans can escape such "suspicion" but all so-called "non-Aryans" obviously are above suspician. The result is that we honor Hitler's own infamous doctrine and abandon our own native law that guilt is personal and individual and that the accused must have a fair trial.

The disclosures in the Garsson case recently provoked new inquiries into a system of frauds, attended by bribery, in the immigration service after the first war. In the recent and current situation, the possibilities and temptations are greater than they ever were before. And, inasmuch as the government itself has warped, evaded and frankly violated the immigration laws and connived at schemes which mocked the law, common sense must suspect that bribery and discrimination are the rule today.

Lippmann — Today and Tomorrow

MR. BYRNES' address at Stuttgart is an indirect reply to the declaration on Germany which M. Molotov made in Paris on July 10. It, too, is an address to the German nation, in fact a competitive bid to offset M. Molotov's astute and deeply conceived appeal to the Germans that in alliance with Russia they can most surely recover their territorial unity and their position as a great power in Europe. This formidable maneuver, the most far-reaching event since the armistice, had to be dealt with.

The two offers are alike in this, that both M. Molotov and Mr. Byrnes make their appeal to the sentiment of German unity.

But there is this essential difference between the two proposals, and it is the one which the nationalist Germans will be sure to note. It is that Russia can in fact restore the territorial integrity of the German Reich and the unity of the German national state whereas the United states can only express a favorable opinion. The Molotov declaration was a statement of policy which his government can in the end carry out. The Byrnes declaration is an argument and an appeal, which, if examined from the point of view of the Germans who intend to restore the power of Germany, makes it more necessary and more practicable rather than less, that they work toward an alliance with Russia.

FOR MR. BYRNES has weakened his basic bargaining position as against the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union, which has joined with Germany four or five times, once as recently as 1939, to partition Poland, can restore all the annexed territories. Mr. Byrnes cannot restore any part of them. He can only refuse to sign a treaty recognizing the annexation.

Mr. Byrnes announcement that we may not ratify all the annexations but only part of them may strengthen a bit the hand of the Germans in their dealings with the Russians. But it cannot prevent the deal as long as it is Russia which alone can give back the lost provinces.

This is not the main reason, however, why Mr. Byrnes has weakened his bargaining position. He did that by discarding his trumps in western Germany. He not only renounced the amputation of the Ruhr and the Rhineland, which in itself was proper enough, but he handed them back not only to the Germans, but, unless there are implied reservations which he neglected to make explicit, to the sovereign control of the central German government.

IF THIS WAS DONE in the hope that it would win for us the gratitude of the German people, we shall be disappointed. We shall find that in this hard-boiled world the German nationalists will not be grateful to us for what they did not lose but will look to the Russians for what they expect to get. In assuring the Germans that they have nothing to lose in the west, except the Saar, Mr. Byrnes has made it all the more certain that the Germans will conduct their real negotiations with Moscow which is master in the east.

His proposals, moreover, for the government of Germany do not counteract the development of a German-Russian alliance. They assist it—unintentionally to be sure. For Mr. Byrnes has, in fact, yielded to M. Molotov's opposition to federal Germany.

RIPS POLICEMAN'S PANTS

SEEK VOTE ON 10 LEVIES, BOND ISSUES IN FALL

Nine Requests For Balloting on School Taxes Filed.

The last of 10 special tax levies and one bond issue expected to be voted upon by voters in various Richland county governmental subdivisions Nov. 5 had been officially filed with the board of elections today.

Deadline for placing special issues and levies on the ballot is Saturday at noon.

Nine of the levies are proposed by boards of education needing additional money for meeting current expenses. The other is to provide the city of Mansfield with a supervised recreational program for youth.

On file with the board of elections are the following proposals:

Mansfield schools, three mills for five years; city of Mansfield, recreation proposal, two-tenths of a mill for five years; Shelby schools, $600,000 bond issue to finance two new buildings and other improvements and a two-mill levy to run for four years for current expenses; Madison township schools, renewal of a three-mill levy for five years.

Bellville schools, renewal of a three-mill levy for three years; Lucas schools, two mills for five years; Mifflin schools, four mills for five years; Lexington schools, three mills for three years; Shiloh schools, five mills for five years; and Union schools, four mills for five years.

VAN-AUTO CRASH INJURES THREE

Young Woman Suffers Broken Ankle and Cuts.

Eileen Johnson, 25, 284 Greenlawn avenue, was reported in "fair" condition at Mansfield General hospital today. She suffered a fractured ankle and cuts when the car in which she was riding collided with a Frank Williams Transfer and Storage company van at 3 p. m. yesterday on U. S. Route 30.

Cut and bruised in the same accident were Garland Bennett, 41, Mansfield, R. D. 4, driver of the car, and his wife, Kathryn. Both were treated and released at the hospital.

State highway officers said the mishap occured one-half mile east of Mansfield. George D. Kistler, 43, of Shelby, driver of the 2-ton van, escaped injury. Officers said two other passengers in the Bennett car also escaped injury.

Nine-year-old Paul Seith, 329 Ninth avenue, suffered minor scratches and bruises, police reported, when a bicycle he was riding collided with a car at East Fourth and Purdy streets about 6 p. m. yesterday.

Officers quoted the driver of the car, Russell F. Bell, Mansfield, R. D. 4, as saying the boy wasn't looking where he was going and struck the side of his car. Bell said he tried futilely to avoid the collision.

Mayor Proclaims Constitution Day

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn in a formal message today asked the citizens of Mansfield to observe next Tuesday as "Constitution day" and to "pause and reflect upon the heritage secured by our Constitution."

"The Constitution adopted by our founding fore-fathers and signed Sept. 17, 1787, has proved basically sound—standing the test of wars, economic disturbances and political upheavals," the mayor's message continued.

"In the name of every patriot, living or dead, let us, on this Constitution day, try to be more worthy of the stewardship we hold as citizens of our republic, the United States of America."

Three Youths Hurt As Car Overturns

MILLERSBURG — Losing control of his car while returning about midnight from the Wooster fair, Howard Herman Jr., 20, of Creston, and two companions suffered severe injuries. Sheriff Wayne Starner's office said the automobile turned over several times about 4 miles west of here.

Herman suffered a fractured vertebra and other injuries.

Pomerene hospital physicians took 25 stitches in a wound in the forehead of Bill Cox, 17, Millersburg high school student. Forrest Leiner, 21, Fredericksburg RD 1, was cut severely on the face and head.

Cox and Leiner was taken to their homes after treatment.

ACCUSED BY FATHER

Juvenile court hearings for two New London youths charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old Ashland high school girl were called for 1:30 p. m. today. The youths, Eldon Arthur Felver, 21, and Franklin U. Hartman, 22, face a statutory charge. The girl is accused of delinquency in complaints filed her father.

Board Tries Again to Reach Decision on Future of Fair

Richland County Agricultural society members will meet Monday night at the courthouse to decide what to do about the county fair and the old fairground on Springmill street.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m., in the common pleas courtroom, Orville Kibler, fair board secretary, said.

The agricultural society now has 196 members, more than at any time in his history, and Kibler said there should be enough at the Monday meeting to reach a decision on the fair's future.

Since the grandstand was destroyed by fire several years ago, the fair has been limited to a junior show for county 4-H and Future Farmer members and school children.

The present ground site is cramped and most of the fair buildings need repairs, fair board members have pointed out. There have been suggestions that the board sell the present ground and acquire a new site outside the city limits where there will be ample room.

Guards Search for Men Who Left Dairy Barn.

Mansfield reformatory authorities were extending their search today for two inmates who escaped from the dairy barn at 12:50 a. m. today.

Arthur L. Glattke, superintendent, said Robert Hill, 18, and James Travis, 21, were the fugitives.

Hill was received at the institution on Oct. 9, 1945, from Pickaway county on charges of juvenile delinquency and is serving sentence of one year to age. Travis was received on March 12, 1946, from Licking county for burglary and auto theft to serve a one-to-20-year term.

Woman, 38, Held On Check Charge

GALION—Sue Goodall, 38, alias Mrs. McMasters, claiming to be from West Virginia, was arrested by local police yesterday on a warrant charging cashing of checks with insufficient funds. She will have a hearing in Mayor William Amann's court today.

Two checks drawn on the First National bank, Galion, one for $100, cashed at Stone's Grill yesterday, and the other for $50, which she is alleged to have cashed at the C. & C. Store Sept. 6, are the basis of the charge, police said.

Officials of the bank, however, stated she had previously cashed a $10 check at Wilke's second hand store without having funds in an account. They said her account has been closed out some time ago.

HEADS DRIVE

Allen Bond to Direct Red Cross Fund Committee.

Allen Bond was announced today as chairman of the Richland County Red Cross Campaign Fund committee. Mrs. W. M. Layton was appointed chairman of the committee to nominate 1947 board members.

Serving with Mrs. Layton will be Milo Hieber, Clarence Fike, Lena Heim, John Routzon and Mrs. Dick Cook of Shelby.

In naming the committees Sam H. Campbell, chapter chairman, announced resignation of two board members.

A. C. Hunter resigned because of ill health in his family. J. E. McCullough resigned because he has moved from Lucas to Shelby where he will work with the Shelby branch.

2 Enlist for Military Duty

William L. Hester, Mansfield, R. D. 5, and Gail O. Butler, 176 West Fifth street, enlisted for military service yesterday, Mansfield recruiters reported.

Hester enlisted in the navy and was ordered to Great Lakes, Ill., for training, while Butler signed with the marines and will leave with a group from here for Parris Island, N. C., Sept. 30.

Master Technical Sergeant Ray Baumann, marine recruiter also reported that aviation enlistments in the marine corps will be terminated Oct. 1.

It is also expected that two and three-year enlistment periods will be closed at that time, with the four-year enlistment period continuing, Baumann said.

Tax Revenue Spurts Again

Every county in the Mansfield area showed a big increase in state sales tax receipts during the final week of August over the corresponding week last year, the state treasurer's report showed today.

Richland county topped the list with total receipts of $35,112 for the week as compared with $13,241 last year. Revenue in the county for the first eight months of the year amounted to $677,417, more than $200,000 ahead of a similar period last year.

Collections for the final week of August in other area counties, as compared with last year, were:

Ashland, $7,977 and $4,547; Crawford, $8,958 and $4,819; Holmes, $1,613 and $1,502; Huron, $6,358 and $5,057; Knox, $6,516 and $3,920; Morrow, $1,571 and $1,070.

RAISE PAY

UP AND DOWN the Street

LOTS OF REASON—

There was much reason for celebration today at the Harry P. Iler home, 603 Arlington avenue. Both Mr. Iler and his son, Jim, 10, were observing their birthdays and for Mr. and Mrs Iler it was their 17th wedding anniversary. But, said Mrs. Iler, "nothing special" was planned.

IN 'WHO'S WHO'—

Friends and former pupils here will be interested to know that a former assistant principal of Mansfield High School has been listed in the 12th edition of "Who's Who." He is Walter Armstrong, teacher at the Roxboro Junior High school in Cleveland Heights. Armstrong came to Mansfield from the Shelby high school. Since leaving here in 1924 he has been teaching in Cleveland Heights. He is not sure what gained him this honor, but says that it may have come from conducting a "Control Experiment in Moral Education." or his preparation of laboratory manual published soon after leaving Mansfield.

Speeding Called Accident Cause

Speeding, crashing red lights, and violations of stop signs are the three principal causes of accidents, Frend Boals, city traffic commissioner, told the Optimists club at their luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday.

Boals explained the organization of the traffic department which endeavors to see that some 12,000 automobiles and 40,000 people move safely through Mansfield streets daily.

Asked his opinion of the new traffic light system, Boals said that "the new system will probably expedite the flow of traffic, but it is too early to come to definite conclusions as the people still have to be educated to the new system."

George C. Kyle, program chairman, introduced Boals.

MILLS, BAKERY FIRMS FIGHT OPA CONTROLS

Adequate Supplies End Need For Continued Ceilings, Say Spokesmen.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The nation's flour millers and bakers will petition the government shortly for removal of price ceilings on flour, bread, and all other bakery products.

Spokesmen for the Millers' National federation and the American Bakers association said today that their industries are drafting the decontrol petitions for presentation to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

A high OPA official revealed, meanwhile, that the price agency is likely to lift controls soon on biscuit mixes and certain other flour mixes. He said OPA also is considering the removal of ceilings on flour.

Plans Indefinite.

This official stated that OPA had no definite plan for decontrolling flour, but that such action was being discussed from time to time.

The millers' federation spokesman said that the millers industry advisory committee would submit the flour decontrol petition to Anderson within the next week.

The bakers' spokesman explained that the bakery industry advisory committee would wait until the end of next week, however, to present its plea for removal of ceilings on bakery products.

The industry petition for decontrol of flour will be based on the fact that wheat is free of ceilings and that wheat is 80 per cent of the raw material used by the industry.

Bakers plan to base their request for decontrol on the adequacy of both flour and grains—the base materials for bakery products.

These developments came on the heels of an increase of 20 cents per hundred pounds in the price of flour. This boost was granted by OPA to offset higher production costs to the milling industry.

Prices Increase.

Meanwhile, OPA announced increases ranging as high as 15 per cent in the retail prices of men's, women's, children and infants' knit underwear and nightwear, cotton hosiery and bandanna work handkerchiefs.

Waterproofed clothing and leather work gloves also were boosted by the action which was taken to reflect raising raw cotton prices.

OPA officials revealed that the agency would authorize a further increase in the prices of major cotton textiles. They said this boost would amount to about two per cent and was being approved to reflect recent wage increases in the cotton textile industry.

In other actions, OPA suspended price controls on several items, including bottle caps and shaving cream and toothpaste tubes, and set the stage for increases in the prices of small household electrical appliances.

Manufacturers of the electrical appliances were granted permission to apply for increased prices for small electric fans, flat irons, hot plates, sandwich grills, toasters, and bowl-type space heaters.

OPA said that increases for these items would in no case amount to more than 15 per cent at the retail level.

Other items decontrolled by the agency were used and recapped airplane tires, aromatic red cedar lumber and logs, and several metallic products.

REORGANIZED

Ashland Symphony Orchestra Resumes This Year.

ASHLAND — Rushed since its 1941-42 concert series because of the war, the Ashland Symphony orchestra is now being reorganized and will resume its two annual concerts this year, Director Louis E. Pete announced recently.

The first concert will be presented Dec. 9 in McDowell auditorium as a part of the Ashland college concert and lecture series. Arrangements are being made to secure a noted guest artist for appearance with the orchestra.

The second concert will be given in the spring of 1947.

The 80-piece municipal orchestra, composed of music-loving Ashlanders and professional musicians, has been the pride of Ashland since a humble beginning with a church concert by a 40-piece orchestra in 1925.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING

SHELBY — Another school of leadership training will be held this fall according to plans being made. The school will be held five Monday evenings beginning October 7, closing November 4, and will be held in the high school buildings. Details of the courses to be offered will be announced later.

SHIPLEY QUITS AT JOHNSVILLE

Board Clerk Resigns After 31 Years of Service.

JOHNSVILLE—The resignation of A. W. Shipley, Johnsville board of education clerk and board member for 31 years, was accepted at the regular Monday meeting. Vaughn Tischer was elected to fill Shipley's position.

Suffering from an injury to his right forefinger, Shipley's term did not expire until Dec. 31.

Commenting of the growth of the school district now and when he was first elected to office, Shipley recalled that 31 years ago it was four miles square, had one four-room building, and some eighty pupils.

At present, Shipley said, the district is the largest in Morrow county, being comprised of 53 square miles, with an enrollment of 416. Ten teachers are employed at the new consolidated building at Johnsville.

Board members joined in extending their thanks for Shipley's efforts over his 31-year tenure of office.

SA BAND TO PLAY

BUCYRUS—A weekend of special entertainment will be provided by the 25-piece Cincinnati Salvation Army band which is expected to arrive early Saturday morning. The musicians will fill several engagements here before proceeding to Mansfield for the Sunday morning service at the reformatory. An afternoon concert is scheduled for the county children's home at Galion.

Pastor Leaves to Take New Charge

BUTLER — The Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Larason have left for their new pastorage and home in Stoutsville, Ohio, after having served the churches at Butler, Salem and Bunker Hill.

As farewells for the Larasons, congregational members sat in the Butler church recently to hear a program of talks, music and readings and to present the Larasons with an appropriate gift. The presentation was made by the Rev. Lena Jennings, pastor of the Perrysville Presbyterian church.

At the close of their ministry here, the Rev. and Mrs. Larason and their family gave a musical program of marimba, piano, vocal and drum numbers at the Butler church.

ASHLAND TOPS ALL RECORDS; 511 ENROLLED

College Officials Are Forced To Close Freshman Registration.

ASHLAND — Classrooms were jammed to capacity Wednesday as Ashland college opened its portals to an unprecedented enrollment of 511 students. This was the first time since the college was chartered in 1878 that registration has topped the 500 mark.

College officials were forced to close freshman reigstration when almost 300 plebes showed up for Frosh Week and the freshman orientation program.

So large is the enrollment now that traditional chapel services held at the college each morning have been forced out of the chapel into the college gymnasium or the nearby First Brethren church. In view of the existing situation, chapel services are being made compulsory only three days a week.

A large proportion of the collegians sport discharge emblems. Indicative of the heavy veteran enrollment is the popularity of science and math classes, which were not over-crowded during war years. Extra sections have had to be formed for English and psychology classes also

Housing also remains a problem for the Hilltop students, with the 50,000 veterans' housing project across from Redwood stadium lagging behind schedule because of labor and materials' difficulties Veterans scheduled to live in the dormitories and apartment units of the project are finding temporary quarters elsewhere in the city in the meantime.

Opening the college social program Tuesday night was a formal reception for new students at the Myers Memorial Department of Music.

COURT FINES THREE DRIVERS

Motorist Cited For Passing School Bus.

Three persons were fined a total of $30 and costs today in municipal court on traffic violation charges while three others forfeited a total of $75 in bonds when they failed to appear for hearing.

Fined $10 and costs each were George D. Kistler, of Shelby, charged with operating a motor vehicle with insufficient brakes, and William Howard, New London, R. D 3, charged with speeding.

Arthur A. Eschtruth, Nova, O., charged with passing a school bus which was receiving passengers, was fined $5 and costs, while Charles F. Magee, 92 Vale avenue, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of crossing a yellow line

Forfeiting $25 speeding bonds were Hyman Rosenthal of Columbus, and Lester O Dethloff of Willoughby. Eugene M Sullivan of Cleveland forfeited a $25 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of crossing a yellow line

NUSBAUM SERVICES

ASHLAND — Funeral services were held in Ashland Wednesday for Harry Nusbaum, former resident of Ashland and native of Ashland county, who died Tuesday in Toledo.

The body of the deceased was to be brought from his late home at noon, with the Rev H H Lentz officiating at two o'clock. Burial was to be made in Ashland cemetery.

The deceased has no immediate survivors

Council Authorizes Street Improvements In Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — At the second special meeting of city council within a week, Tuesday night, council authorized construction on the widening and resurfacing project for South Sandusky avenue, which carries with it a new regulation in parking which council fears will meet with disfavor of citizens living along the route.

The agreement is in keeping with a policy being established by the state highway department which eliminates parking on state routes as a means of promoting greater traffic safety.

The agreement provides for complete elimination of parking on South Sandusky avenue from Marion road to the corporation and for parking on one side of the street only from Marion road to Charles street. Enforcement of the parking regulation will be up to the city.

Two-thirds of the cost of the improvement is to be paid by the state and federal highway departments and other third by the city The city's share is expected to be $11,300 of which the county commissioners have agreed to assume $6,000 of the cost.

32 TAKE EXAMS FOR CITY POSTS

Patrolmen, Firemen Try For Department Promotions.

Thirty-two applicants for city posts took civil service examinations last night at John Simpson Junior high school. Among them were eight firemen who are competing for appointment to the position of captain, which is vacant

Eight patrolmen took examinations for possible appointment as police lieutenant when a vacancy exists, T. A. Woodard, chairman of the civil service commission, said.

Five took the examination for patrolmen, two for class "B" bookkeeper in the water and garbage department, two for assistant sanitary plant operator, and four for school janitor

One person each took examinations for clerk-stenographer in the police department, maintenance and repairman in the waterworks department and electrician in the water and sewer department.

Taking the fire captains examination were Charles Weaver Harold George, Frank Kollin Ray C Underwood, Leo Jones Clarence Hall, Dan Snider and J C Donnan All have had three or more years experience as a fireman, Woodard said.

He said that if the new No 5 fire station, to be built on Marion avenue, is completed within the year, it would mean that one other top man on the list could be named as captain of that station.

Patrolmen taking the examination for possible appointment as lieutenant were Glenn Adams, Earl Korn, Floyd Bowers, William J Taylor, Robert Garver, Arthur Conrady, Charles Letizia jr, and John E Steele.

TO PRINT BALLOTS

BUCYRUS—Contract for printing the ballots for the November election has been awarded to the Herald Printing company of New Washington on its bid of $532 22. One other bid was received from the Hopley Printing company of Bucyrus at $517 for party and judicial ballots only Special issues were also included in the New Washington bid

SPRINGFIELD, N. J.—(AP)—For a while the National Amateur appeared to be developing into a young man's golf tournament when one ex-champion, Willie Turnesa, and two former finalists, Ray Billows and Walter Emery, were bounced out in the first round along with a number of other guys who were good golfing "names" before the war. . . . But 37-year-old Smiley Quick helped to even things up for the older generation and such old standbys as Maurice McCarthy, Dick Chapman and Bud Ward (not that they're doddering old wrecks) came through. . . . Johnny Fischer, who failed to qualify, explains it: "You lose a little concentration when you get older; you find you're making too many shots from memory. . . . It's like the way old fighters get a little punch drunk."

FAIR AND WARMER.

In a press room discussion of the blind draw which resulted in such matches as Skee Riegel vs. Bob Babbish, Howard Everitt vs. Willie Turnesa and Frank Stranahan vs. Bruce McCormick in the first round and Riegel-Smiley Quick and Ward-Stranahan in the second, one scribe claimed it was a "double wing unbalanced draw" with all the strength of the field in two quarters. . . . "It has," he added, "all the weaknesses of Pop Warner's system."

ONE MINUTE SPORTS PAGE.

Word trickling up this way is that Oklahoma's footballers may have a surprise for Army Sept. 28. . . . The Sooners have some real big boys in the line, including a six-foot, five-inch center, and our informant says: "They'll do real good if they can play ball." . . . And Villanova has high hopes of surprising Navy in the Middies' opening game. . . . What's this story that Eddie Eagan is thinking about resigning as New York state athletic commissioner because of recent unsatisfactory doings?

IT GOT BY GEORGE.

George Strickler, National Football league publicitor, still is looking for the miscreants who stole a gold pass, intended for President Truman, from his office. . . . "They broke into everything but the Packers' backfield," George moans. "It was such a beautiful pass—and the president wouldn't have to go to Miami or San Francisco to use it."

Gals Wrestle Here Tonight

Tonight's all star "rassling" show at the Armory shapes up as one of the best cards booked in Mansfield in recent months.

The double main-go pits June Byers, Houston against Juanita Banks of California and Stocky Knielson against Davey Reynolds. Both are best two-out-of-three matches with a one hour time limit.

June and Juanita are slated to begin their "hair-pulling" tactics at 8:20. June last appeared in Mansfield 15 months ago while Juanita will be doing her first local "eye-gouging."

Knielson has not appeared in a Mansfield ring in the last nine months. Reynolds has built up quite a local following by his use of clean mat tactics.

Paul Piles Up Early Advantage

By FRED THARP

Piling up a comfortable margin in the first three rounds, Paul Carbetta wiped the only blot off his professional ring record by winning a ten-round decision over Dick "Teddy" Lewis last night in the Mansfield Armory.

Carbetta showed unexpected strength in the early rounds to give the crowd of 1,000 rabid boxing fans a run for their money. He put Lewis on the canvas twice in the opening canto and had the Dayton belter on the mat once in the third heat.

Lewis came back strong in the latter rounds but could not erase Carbetta's early lead. The News-Journal score sheet gave Punchin' Paul five, Lewis three, and the other two were even.

As a ring prognosticator, Carbetta missed the boat slightly but the victory gave Paul his first win over the Dayton featherweight. Carbetta had repeatedly declared that he would eliminate the Dayton battler via the knockout route.

He came close to ending the brawl in the initial canto. Paul kept on top of Lewis and put him down again a few seconds later with another stiff right.

The third heat saw Lewis slip to the canvas once and then run into a honey of a straight right. The bell cut Referee "Honeyboy" Jones' count at two.

Lewis' seven-pound weight advantage began to tell in the fifth, but Carbetta went on top again in the sixth when his right hand regained some of its early power. In the ninth Lewis continually pushed Carbetta around and the Mansfield feather went down twice in brief punching flurries at the ropes.

Carbetta had won 18 of 20 professional battles prior to last night. Both of the losses came at the hands of Lewis, one in Chicago and the other in a Mansfield ring.

Clever Dick Alexander ran his pro winning streak to five straight by clearly outpointing Dan Pinto of Delaware. Pinto outweighed the Mansfield welter, 152 to 144, but Alexander had too much of everything in the six-round semi-windup.

Alexander opened a slight cut under Pinto's eye in the second round. Pinto got stronger as the fight progressed but never was in the running.

Phil Schwartz, subbing for Woody 'Lowden of Columbus, stopped George Kerestes' winning streak at three in the other six-rounder on the Rex Reese-Sam Miller promoted card. Schwartz came in at 161 pounds and Kerestes at 160.

The first three rounds were fairly even, but Schwartz gave George a terrific body beating in the late stages. One judge called the fight a draw, but the other two gave the nod to Schwartz.

Lean Joe Brown, 171, Lakeville bomber, now fighting out of Mansfield, outpointed Jimmy Smith, 187, a miniature Tony Galento from Dayton, in one of the four-rounders. Smith had a "pot-belly" and couldn't make up his mind to lead with his right or his left hand.

Smith absorbed a lot of punishment but only "kissed" the canvas once. He was out on his feet at the final bell, however.

AND HE'S DOWN: Dick "Teddy" Lewis grasps Paul Carbetta's leg in the first round of last night's headliner at the Armory after being felled by one of the Mansfield featherweight's lethal rights. Carbetta put Lewis on the canvas twice in the opening session and went on to win a ten-round decision. Referee is "Honeyboy" Jones.

Mansfield To Have Race Day

CLEVELAND — Mansfield will have a "day at the races" next Tuesday at the Thistle Down race course in Cleveland.

Four purses on the eight-race card will be dedicated to Mansfield and parties from the City building and Chamber of Commerce will be guests of the track. Approximately 20 Mansfielders are expected to be in the official party.

The sixth race, "City of Mansfield," is listed as the top event on the card and will carry a purse of $1,200. The fourth race will be dedicated to The News-Journal, fifth to the Mansfield-Leland hotel and seventh to the Chamber of Commerce.

The Mansfield delegation will be guests at a luncheon at 12:45. Racing begins at 2:30.

Barnes Wins In Tourney

MARION — Stub Winebrenner pitched one-hit ball to give the Barnes Manufacturing nine, district softball champions, a 4 to 0 victory over the Delaware Indians in the Marion Invitational tournament at Smitty's park, last night.

Winebrenner gave up the lone single in the fifth inning. He struck out 13 Indians.

Ted Bush, Wayne Hough, and Tippy Williams each got two base hits, with Bob Daugherty hitting a triple.

The Barnes team will play again Sunday, September 22. Their opponent will be announced later.

Colonels Top Saints, 4-3

(By Associated Press)

The Louisville Colonels, American Association pennant winners and always a tough team to beat when the chips are down, today held a two to nothing lead over St. Paul in the opening round of the league's Shaughnessy playoffs.

The Colonels had to go 15 innings before downing the Saints, 4 to 3, last night. In the other section of the first round playoffs, Indianapolis squared its series with Minneapolis at one game apiece on a 2 to 1 victory.

The third game of the semi-final round will be played tonight in Indianapolis and Louisville. The teams will then move to Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Louisville has won four out of the last six Association playoffs and is the defending champion in the Junior World Series.

RAMS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY OVER 'CATS

By BRUCE M'GINTY

With only two practice sessions remaining, the Madison high school gridiron aggregation is confident of a victory over New London in the seasonal opener Saturday night on the Rams' field.

New London took the measure of the Rams, 6 to 0, in 1945, and Coach Jeff DeHaven's eleven would like a bit of revenge Saturday. DeHaven has ten lettermen available from last season.

The Madison team is going through a long drill on pass offense and defense this afternoon and will brush up on their repertoire of plays in the final pregame session tomorrow.

DeHaven uncovered some unexpected reserve strength in a practice scrimmage at Shelby last Saturday and plans to substitute frequently against the 'Cats.

Heavy contact drills earlier this week worked out several "kinks" in the Rams offense and the Madison mentor plans to use plenty of passes off his single-wing formation. Herb Eldridge and Dick Ernsberger will handle the aerial assignments. Eldridge was a guard in '45 while Ernsberger subbed at fullback.

Eldridge and Ernsberger team with Jack Herr and Dick Schuttera in the starting backfield. All except Ernsberger are lettermen. Kenneth Gabor, another monogram winner, is the No. 1 ball carrying replacement.

DeHaven is sure of his starting forward wall, with the exception of the guards. It is a toss-up whether Martin Hall and Bob Gottfried or Don Cornell and Mike Tormaschy will start. Hall and Gottfried are varsity veterans.

Eldon Pritchard and Ed Thomas will be at the ends, Jack Cleckner and Dan Stevens, tackles, and Chuck Campbell, center. Thomas, Stevens, Campbell, and Cleckner are lettermen. Cleckner also captains the squad.

Bill Kopcial, former Madison star, and Nick Weber, ex-Tyger and University of Tennessee back, are assistant coaches.

Madison fans will get a chance to see the new drum majorettes' uniforms Saturday night when the high school band puts on their half-time show.

The boosters club gave a wiener roast for the squad Tuesday evening.

Crestline 11 Opens Friday

CRESTLINE—Coach Merle Hutson has decided on the Crestline high school starting lineup for the first game of the season Friday night at Mt. Gilead.

Hutson, back at the helm of the Crestline grid machine after three years in the service, has a pair of ex-servicemen on his squad. They are: James Blaising, guard, and Mervin Balyeat, substitute center.

Against Mt. Gilead, Hutson will start Edward Meyers and Donald Gehrisch, ends; Calvin Johnson and Vincent Christini, tackles; Blaising and Wallace Vaughn, guards; Don Stover, center; Paul Winemiller, Robert Sands, Wayne Rhodus and Frank Tridico, backs.

Crestline won one game, tied one and lost seven last season and the 1946 schedule looks mighty tough. The squad has new grey uniforms with blue trim.

Louis Cellini, Heidelberg, is the line coach and an ex-Ohio Stater, Robert Frye, tutors the backs.

Old Timers-Stars Try Again Tonight

The Old Timers and All Star nines renew their best three-out-of-five games challenge series tonight at Johns park at 5:30.

Tuesday night the teams played a 5 to 5 tie in a game that was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness. Aid Geiger has been nominated for Old Timers mound duty.

Barclay On Bridge

OUT ON the open highway, you can be gliding along blithely, without a care in the world, when you unsuspectingly arrive at a "speed trap." A motorcycle cop, who gets a commission from the small-town judge for all fines, swoops up behind and tells you to "move over." There's not very much you can do about that, except to go slow the next time you pass that way. But at the bridge tables, you should protect yourself the first time.

West opened his spade Q and, before playing on it, South fixed his thinking cap firmly on his head. He began by realizing that West in the auction disclosed a holding of five spades, four hearts and four clubs, with nary a diamond—as with three four- carders and a singleton, he would have started with a club bid.

So East was marked with all of the outstanding diamonds. Such being the case, he could stop the suit after four tricks, leaving South a trick shy of game. Then he saw a way to tempt East to part with his stopper.

South took the first trick with the spade K and instantly led the diamond 5, playing the 8 from dummy after West discarded his heart 6. East, one of those "brilliant quick thinkers," promptly took the diamond 8 with his 10 and returned the spade 8. Now South's contract was assured. He won the spade with the A, led the diamond K and overtook it with the A, then proceeded to cash all the tricks he needed.

Reds-Dodgers Play Longest Scoreless Tie on Record; Phils Bop Cards; Bo-Sox Lose Again

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

Like the 1938 Pittsburgh Pirates, the Brooklyn Dodgers could lose the National league pennant because of inability to play their full schedule.

The Pirates of '38, who finished in second place, 13 percentage points behind the champion Chicago Cubs, were rained out of four games that year, but the Dodgers' situation came from yesterday's record-breaking 19-inning scoreless tie with the Cincinnati Reds.

The scoreless deadlock, coupled with the St. Louis defeat by the Phils in Philadelphia, cut the Cardinals' first place margin to a game and a half. Both teams are all even on the losing side of the ledger but th Cards have won three more games.

Branch Rickey, head of the Dodgers, planned to confer with Ford Frick, president of the National league today, on the replay Sept. 20 or 26. He would like to move back the Dodge-Pirate game, only scheduled league tilt on Sept. 20, to make a doubleheader with the Bucs Sept. 19. Sept. 26th is an open date for both teams.

The Dodgers were occupied with their all-important series with the Cardinals starting today. They realize, as do the Cards, that this three-game set may decide the pennant race.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers plans to start Kirby Higbe, his righthanded ace, while Eddie Dyer, boss of the Redbirds, intimated he will lead with southpaw Howie Pollet.

Yesterday's marathon game, called because of darkness, bettered by one inning the previous longest scoreless tie game, played July 16, 1909, between Detroit and Washington.

Johnny Vander Meer pitched the first 15 innings, gave up only seven hits and struck out 14 while walking only two. Harry Gumbert pitched the last four innings for the Reds, allowing only one hit. The Dodgers used four pitchers, starter Hal Gregg going 10 innings, Hugh Casey five; Art Herring three, and Hank Behrman, one. They gave up 10 hits.

Oscar Judd, 36-year-old southpaw, pitched the Phils to a 9-4 victory over the Cards.

For the second straight day, the Tigers forced postponement of Boston's pennant celebration by handing the American league leading Red Sox a 7-3 setback. Hank Greenberg highlighted a five-run first inning against Dave (Boo) Ferriss, with his 38rd home run with two on.

The Cubs and Braves battled through 17 innings before darkness halted their game with the score tied at 3-3. Emil Kush and Hank Borowy held the Braves to one hit in the last 12⅓ innings.

The Indians hammered four New York Yankee pitchers for 16 hits as Allie Reynolds went the route for his 11th win with an 11-2 triumph. The Chicago White Sox climbed on Bobo Newsom for five runs in the sixth inning to defeat the Senators 6-1, and the St. Louis Browns shut opt the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 in a night game at Sportman's park.

The Pirates went into seventh place in the National league and dumped the New York Giants into the cellar by beating the New Yorkers twice 7-6 and 7-5 at the Polo Grounds.

Shelby Salesbook Tops Eagles, 3-2

SHELBY — The Shelby Salesbook company nine defeated the Eagles, 3 to 2, in the second game of a three-game series for the Shelby league championship here last night.

The Eagles, second half champs, scored their two runs in the third when Kenny Seitz homered with Kenny King aboard. Salesbook garnered all three of its runs in the sixth frame.

Charles Williams, Shelby high coach, allowed the Eagles only two hits, while Eddie Griffeth permitted Salesbook five blows.

Final game of the series will be played Monday night at 5:30.

Riegel Falls By Wayside

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. — (AP) — About the only thing certain today in the current running of the national amateur golf championship was that Skee Riegel of Upper Darby, Pa. had joined the large rank of the tournament's medal winners who failed to make the grade in match play.

Smiley L. Quick of Inglewood, Calif. turned up as Riegel's nemesis to oust the record-setting medalist in the second round, one up.

Both Quick and Riegel encountered rough opposition for their first rounds. Smiley, who had a runner-up's share of the medal play, topped Henry Martell, Canadian amateur champion. Riegel was forced to the 18th to beat Robert N. Babbish of Royal Oak, Mich., who split the medal second place with Quick.

We'd like to stretch it, too

We're not going to tell any "fish stories" about the shortage of Climalene. For several months we just couldn't get the necessary raw materials to make it. Stocks of Climalene were cleaned out.

Now our factories are humming again and we are shipping Climalene out to grocers as fast as possible. It will take some time to catch up with the demand. Meantime we are distributing all we can make on a fair basis so all who want it will have an equal chance to buy it.

You'll find Climalene more plentiful after a while. Until we can stretch our production so that everybody can have all they want, please use it sparingly. Thanks for your patience. The Climalene Company, Canton, Ohio.
